1. Preface

1.1. Objectives of the Study

- Which documented chemical offerings participate in the accepted Product Function and Substrate Material categories, and how can their commercial scope be distinguished from treatment equipment, finishing services, upstream inputs, and downstream finished articles?
- Who controls chemical selection and supplier approval in Captive Finishing Operations and Contract Finishing Operations, and which qualification, compatibility, supply-continuity, and switching requirements must a supplier satisfy?
- How do Treatment Platform, Treatment Objective, and End-Use Industry relate to documented buyer requirements, and what evidence distinguishes an advertised application from an accepted commercial offering?
- Which jurisdiction-specific permissions, restrictions, and customer requirements affect access for the accepted Chromium Chemistry categories, without assuming that a chemistry designation establishes legal permission or buyer acceptance?
- What documented distribution, resale, ownership, or licensing relationships establish a supplier's commercial route to buyers, and which delivery, support, and account responsibilities remain with each party?
- Which evidenced portfolio, qualification, service, and geographic capabilities distinguish suppliers, and under what conditions would direct supply, an intermediary relationship, or a commercial partnership address a specific access requirement?
- How do Liquids, Dry Solids, and Pastes and Gels relate to documented commercial availability and buyer delivery, storage, and support requirements, and how should those conditions inform sourcing choices?

1.2. Market Definition

Chemical Surface Treatment covers the Global market for chemical offerings supplied for the preparation, treatment, finishing, and protection of material surfaces within the included Product Function categories. Both Nonelectrolytic Chemical Treatment and Electrolytic Treatment are included across Metals, comprising Ferrous Metals and Nonferrous Metals; Polymers and Polymer Composites; Glass and Ceramics; and Semiconductor Materials.

The buyer boundary includes Captive Finishing Operations and Contract Finishing Operations, reached through Direct Sales and Distributor and Reseller Sales. End-use industries identify the destination of treated articles and are distinct from the identity of the chemical purchaser or the party controlling supplier approval. The accepted treatment objectives, supply forms, and Chromium Chemistry categories remain included throughout the study.

The studied offering is the treatment chemical, not the total value of treatment machinery, finishing services, or downstream finished articles. Upstream materials, equipment, service relationships, and downstream manufacturing are relevant where they explain chemical selection, qualification, distribution, or competition. An upstream material participates when the supplied offering falls within an included chemical function; a supplier's adjacent activities do not automatically bring its entire portfolio into the market.

1.3. Market Segmentation & Coverage

Product Function covers Cleaners and Degreasers; Pickling and Descaling Agents; Etchants; Polishing and Brightening Agents; Strippers; Conditioners and Activators; Galvanizing Fluxes; Adhesion-Promoting Pretreatments; Conversion Coating and Passivation Chemicals; Metal-Deposition Chemicals; Anodizing Chemicals; Colorants and Coloring Additives; Sealing Chemicals; and Corrosion Inhibitors and Rust Preventives. This axis identifies the chemical offering's commercial role rather than the value of the downstream treatment service.

Treatment Platform distinguishes Nonelectrolytic Chemical Treatment and Electrolytic Treatment. Treatment Objective separately covers Corrosion and Chemical Resistance; Adhesion and Joining Performance; Wear and Friction Performance; Electrical Performance; Appearance and Optical Performance; Surface Cleanliness and Contamination Control; Dimensional and Surface Texture Control; Thermal Management; and Biological Interface Performance. Platform and objective describe treatment context and intended outcome without establishing product equivalence or approval for a particular application.

End-Use Industry includes Road Vehicles; Aerospace and Defense; Rail and Marine Transportation; Electrical and Electronics; Industrial Machinery, Tools, and Instruments; Building and Construction; Packaging and Containers; Medical and Dental Devices; Household and Recreational Goods; Jewelry, Personal Accessories, and Coinage; Printing and Graphic Arts; and Metals and Metal Products. These categories organize downstream application requirements without assuming that the end-use manufacturer purchases the chemicals directly.

Buyer Operating Model distinguishes Captive Finishing Operations and Contract Finishing Operations, keeping the purchaser's business role separate from downstream industry. Supply Form covers Liquids; Dry Solids; and Pastes and Gels as commercial offering formats, not instructions for preparation or use.

Sales Channel distinguishes Direct Sales and Distributor and Reseller Sales. It provides a lens for examining commercial access, account ownership, and delivery or support responsibilities without presuming that an intermediary relationship establishes exclusive rights.

Substrate Material covers Metals, divided into Ferrous Metals and Nonferrous Metals; Polymers and Polymer Composites; Glass and Ceramics; and Semiconductor Materials. This axis identifies the material context of the studied offering without extending the boundary to the full value of the substrate or finished article.

Chromium Chemistry distinguishes Hexavalent Chromium-Containing and Hexavalent Chromium-Free. Within Hexavalent Chromium-Free, Chromium-Containing and Chromium-Free remain separate categories. These categories support commercial and regulatory comparison but do not themselves determine jurisdiction-specific permission or buyer acceptance.

All axes operate within the Global boundary as independent analytical views of the same chemical market. Their category totals are not additive across axes, and an offering's relevance to multiple attributes does not establish multiple distinct commercial contributions.

Sources & Evidence

1. European Commission Decision M.7498 - Compagnie de Saint-Gobain/Sika, July 22, 2015

· Taxonomy evidence: Paragraphs xx.xx-xx.xx independently recognize glass cleaners, surface activators, and primers as automotive-glass surface-treatment product groups. This supports the glass portion of the retained combined category, not ceramic coverage or 2025 Global sales. (ec.europa.eu)

· Taxonomy evidence: The decision's automotive-glass product distinctions establish an independent commercial nonmetal treatment context. Applying that context to the receiving-material axis is an analytical mapping; it does not admit all primers, adhesives, or nonmetal treatment portfolios. (ec.europa.eu)

· Taxonomy evidence: Paragraph xx.xx distinguishes glass surface-treatment products from the subsequently applied adhesive and describes their adhesion-related purpose. This supports an adhesion objective separately from purchased chemical function and substrate. (ec.europa.eu)

· Taxonomy evidence: In its 2015 automotive-glass assessment, the Commission separately considered glass cleaners, surface activators, and primers alongside adhesives. This establishes independently recognized surface-preparation purchases in that EEA application, not universal inclusion of every primer or adhesive. (ec.europa.eu)

· Taxonomy evidence: The decision independently recognizes glass cleaners as a commercial surface-treatment product group, supporting analogous dedicated nonmetal cleaners within the provisional boundary. (ec.europa.eu)

2. Electrical and Electronic Components Effluent Guidelines - U.S. EPA

   · Taxonomy evidence: EPA separately recognizes semiconductor manufacturing within the Electrical and Electronic Components category and identifies cleaning, degreasing, and etching among associated activities. This establishes category context, not eligible treatment-chemical product sales or the report's bare-semiconductor inclusion boundary.
   (epa.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The page identifies semiconductors and electronic crystals as distinct industry settings and provides cross-category guidance concerning semiconductor facilities and metal finishing. Regulatory applicability therefore cannot substitute for the report's commercial product boundary.
   (epa.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: EPA's electrical-and-electronic industry description includes etching but also adjacent mechanical and manufacturing activities. Recognition of etching in that setting does not establish inclusion of every wafer-processing chemical in the retained product-function category.
   (epa.gov)

3. Cooperative Patent Classification - C23G Definitions

   · Taxonomy evidence: C23G explicitly excludes nonmetallic-material treatment and records overlapping cleaning, pickling, stripping, and etching terminology. It cannot independently establish the full Global nonmetal boundary or a mutually exclusive commercial product partition.
   (uspto.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The glossary includes removal of nonmetallic inorganic coatings within pickling. Assigning applied-film removal to Strippers is therefore an explicit commercial-purpose allocation convention, not a claim that CPC terminology supplies exclusive peers.
   (uspto.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: C23G lists etching and several cleaning or stripping expressions among overlapping patent usages. Documented purchased purpose, rather than a product name alone, is required to distinguish retained pickling preparations from etchants and applied-coating strippers.
   (uspto.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The C23G glossary associates pickling with removal of rust, scale, and corrosion deposits. It also records overlapping terminology, so product labels alone cannot establish allocation.
   (uspto.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: C23G distinguishes degreasing through removal of organic surface contamination from pickling directed at inorganic surface deposits. This supports separate purchased functions rather than a single undifferentiated cleaning category.
   (uspto.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: C23G explicitly concerns chemical cleaning and degreasing other than electrolysis and refers electrolytic equivalents to C25F.
   (uspto.gov)

4. MIL-DTL-81706B with Amendment 1 - Chemical Conversion Materials for Coating Aluminum and Aluminum Alloys, May 2, 2006

   · Taxonomy evidence: Section xx.xx.xx.xx distinguishes hexavalent-chromium-containing and no-hexavalent-chromium conversion materials. This is a specific procurement classification, not a universal trace-content or compliance rule.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Type I identifies conversion-material compositions containing hexavalent chromium, independently supporting this composition branch for the specified product setting.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Type II is defined by absence of hexavalent chromium; that wording does not establish absence of every chromium constituent.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The specification covers chemical conversion materials, separately classified by composition, performance class, supplied form, and application method.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Section xx.xx.xx.xx distinguishes liquid and powder forms, including a thixotropic liquid; thixotropy alone therefore does not establish gel classification.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The supplied-form classification independently recognizes concentrated and premixed liquid conversion materials. (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The supplied-form classification independently recognizes powder conversion materials.
   (quicksearch.dla.mil)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Class xx.xx explicitly recognizes corrosion protection combined with low electrical resistance, supporting an electrical-contact requirement without establishing sales allocations.

5. North American Product Classification System Canada 2022 Version 1.0

   · Taxonomy evidence: NAPCS Canada 2022 code xx.xx identifies metal-treating and plating compounds as chemical goods. The same classification separately identifies fee-based metal-finishing services, supporting a chemical-product rather than service-revenue boundary. Its coverage is North American classification evidence, not a complete global partition.
   (www150.statcan.gc.ca)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Illustrative products under code xx.xx include industrial metal-cleaning degreasers.
   (www150.statcan.gc.ca)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Code xx.xx explicitly includes electroplating solutions and additives.
   (www150.statcan.gc.ca)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The code includes corrosion inhibitors and rust-inhibitor and rust-preventive preparations. Inclusion here remains restricted to the captured surface-treatment boundary.
   (www150.statcan.gc.ca)

6. Metal Finishing Effluent Guidelines - U.S. EPA
   - Taxonomy evidence: EPA identifies electroplating, electroless plating, anodizing, conversion-related coating, chemical etching, and printed-circuit-board manufacture as distinct core operation groups. These support functional distinctions but do not measure chemical-product sales or establish global market coverage. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The EPA operation list separately recognizes chemical etching and milling. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The EPA list identifies phosphating and chromating within its coating group. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Electroplating and electroless plating are separately recognized operations, supporting one deposition function that can cross platform classes. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Anodizing is explicitly identified as a core operation separate from plating and chemical etching. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: EPA states that metal-finishing coverage is process-defined rather than restricted to one industrial sector, supporting the distinction between treatment activity and downstream industry. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: EPA identifies machinery and measuring, analyzing, controlling, and optical-instrument industries among the industrial groups associated with metal-finishing facilities. This supports the machinery-and-instruments buyer grouping, not its demand weight. (epa.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: EPA identifies electrical and electronic machinery, equipment, and supplies among the industrial groups associated with metal-finishing facilities. (epa.gov)
7. Cooperative Patent Classification - C23F Definitions
   - Taxonomy evidence: C23F separately classifies chemical etching and identifies circuit-board microetching through related classification references. It distinguishes substrate-material removal from cleaning classifications. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: C23F recognizes chemical polishing or brightening separately from etching and refers electrolytic polishing to C25F. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: C23F recognizes inhibitors applied to metal surfaces and distinguishes them from protective coating classifications and inhibitors added to pickling products. This supports a bounded surface-preservation category. (uspto.gov)
8. Cooperative Patent Classification - C25F Definitions
   - Taxonomy evidence: C25F recognizes electrolytic cleaning, oxide removal, etching, polishing, and coating stripping. Consequently, electrolytic treatment is not synonymous with metal deposition; the platform can cross several product functions. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The C25F scope establishes a recognized electrolytic material-removal platform distinct from its referenced chemical-treatment classifications. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Electrolytic cleaning and degreasing are explicitly recognized functions. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Electrolytic pickling and descaling are explicitly recognized functions. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: C25F separately identifies electrolytic polishing. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: C25F includes electrolytic removal of metallic coatings, supporting stripping chemistry beyond paint removal. (uspto.gov)

- Taxonomy evidence: C23C xx.xx/xx.xx groups conversion coatings and metal passivation, while distinguishing chemical coating and contact plating elsewhere. This supports combining conversion and passivation without equating them with deposited metal layers. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: C23C recognizes electroless coating compositions and contact plating; its terminology associates contact plating with immersion or displacement plating. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: The electroless-plating definition expressly excludes external electrical power, supporting its placement in the nonelectrolytic peer despite its deposition function. (uspto.gov)

10. Cooperative Patent Classification - C23C Scheme

- Taxonomy evidence: C23C xx.xx/xx.xx includes chemical activation and sensitization before coating; C23C xx.xx/xx.xx separately identifies pretreatment before conversion coating. These classification distinctions support a preparatory conditioning and activation function. Excluding cleaning, etching, bonding promoters, and fluxes from this peer is the present analytical allocation rule. (uspto.gov)

11. Cooperative Patent Classification - C25D Scheme

- Taxonomy evidence: C25D xx.xx/xx.xx identifies electroplating solutions as a recognized classification group. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: The C25D scheme distinguishes anodizing from its pretreatment and after-treatment categories, supporting separate allocation of anodizing-line consumables by function. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: The scheme separately identifies coloring after-treatments and treatments using organic dyes. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: Pore sealing and sealing-layer after-treatments receive distinct classification entries. (uspto.gov)
- Taxonomy evidence: C25D recognizes electrolytic deposition and anodizing while separately identifying chemical after-treatment, supporting treatment-step rather than whole-line platform allocation. (uspto.gov)

12. ASTM A967/A967M-25 - Chemical Passivation of Stainless Steel Parts

- Taxonomy evidence: ASTM A967/A967M-xx.xx recognizes passivation treatments for stainless steel and distinguishes cleaning, descaling, and passivation within its scope. Its abstract recognizes both immersion-based chemical and electrochemical passivation. No treatment instructions are used here. (store.astm.org)
- Taxonomy evidence: Recognition of chemical and electrochemical alternatives for the same passivation function supports treating purchased function and treatment platform as separate axes. (store.astm.org)

13. Cooperative Patent Classification - C09D Scheme

- Taxonomy evidence: C09D xx.xx/xx.xx explicitly identifies chemical paint and ink removers. This supports a stripping-product function distinct from subsequently purchased coating materials; only industrial workpiece uses inside the captured boundary are retained. (uspto.gov)

14. OSHA SIC Manual - Industry 2899

- Taxonomy evidence: The official SIC xx.xx description explicitly lists galvanizing fluxes among manufactured chemical preparations. This establishes a recognized chemical-goods family independently of coating-service activity. Limiting this category to galvanizing surface-preparation consumables is the present boundary decision. (osha.gov)

15. ISO 7599:2018 - Decorative and Protective Anodic Oxidation Coatings

- Taxonomy evidence: ISO xx.xx:2018 recognizes decorative and protective anodic oxidation coatings on aluminum and distinguishes pretreatment from the anodic coating specification. Its scope is narrower than all anodizing applications, so it supports category recognition rather than an exhaustive anodizing-product perimeter. (iso.org)

16. European Commission JRC - Surface Treatment of Metals and Plastics

- Taxonomy evidence: The European industrial reference explicitly covers electrolytic and chemical surface treatment of metals and plastics and notes that installations can contain both. This supports the two-platform distinction; assigning individual chemical purchases by their own treatment step is an analytical inference. (bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)
- Taxonomy evidence: Chemical treatment is explicitly recognized alongside electrolytic treatment within the reference's industrial scope. (bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

    · Taxonomy evidence: The 2022 NAICS manual provides distinct product-industry definitions for metals, fabricated products, machinery, electrical equipment, transportation equipment, furniture, medical products, and consumer articles. The proposed sector aggregations are analytical adaptations, not a claim that NAICS measures treatment-chemical demand. (census.gov)

1.7. Key Stakeholders

- Surface-treatment chemical suppliers and brand owners: decisions about portfolio participation, customer qualification, commercial rights, channel responsibilities, and support commitments.
- Captive Finishing Operations: decisions about approved chemical sourcing, supplier continuity, switching conditions, and alignment with internal manufacturing and customer requirements.
- Contract Finishing Operations: decisions about chemical selection within customer approvals, supplier support, contractual obligations, and the boundary between purchasing authority and finished-article approval.
- Finished-article manufacturers, original equipment manufacturers, and specification owners: decisions about acceptable treatment outcomes, supplier approval, substitution, and application-specific commercial requirements.

- Distributors, resellers, and licensing partners: decisions about territory and account rights, product access, delivery obligations, technical-service responsibilities, and the durability of supplier relationships.
- Upstream material suppliers and treatment-equipment providers: exposure to chemical selection and compatibility requirements, while keeping their adjacent offerings distinct from the included treatment-chemical business.
- Regulators and surface-finishing industry organizations: interpretation of jurisdiction-specific obligations and industry requirements, with formal legal authority distinguished from guidance or advocacy.
- Investors and corporate development teams: decisions about market participation, capability acquisition, licensing, and channel investment based on attributable offerings and documented commercial rights.

2. Research Methodology

2.1. Introduction

Chemical Surface Treatment is examined as a commercial chemical-offering market in which classification, supplier participation, and buyer access answer different questions. The study approach connects the accepted Global scope and taxonomy to evidence about offerings, business relationships, and purchasing conditions, while distinguishing documented facts from economic interpretation.

The methodology supports decisions about supplier qualification, sourcing, channel access, and portfolio positioning. It keeps qualitative explanations separate from numerical conclusions and limits each claim to the product, organization, jurisdiction, and period that its supporting information can establish.

2.2. Research Design

The research design separates three questions: whether a chemical offering belongs to the accepted scope, whether an organization has a documented commercial role in supplying it, and whether a particular buyer can access and accept it. Inclusion in the taxonomy establishes the study category, not a supplier's capability or a buyer's approval.

Documentary evidence supports the business fact within its own authority and scope, while analyst-led primary research provides a qualitative challenge layer. Legal status, advertised portfolios, commercial rights, and purchasing conditions are evaluated as separate claims rather than interchangeable evidence of participation.

2.2.1. Primary Research

The analyst team conducted primary research as a qualitative challenge layer for market definition, segmentation, demand conditions, adoption barriers, and competitive interpretation. This work tested analytical assumptions and sharpened explanations of market mechanisms without serving as standalone support for numerical estimates.

The qualitative challenge layer is evaluated alongside secondary evidence within the accepted market scope. It informs conditional market explanations and hypotheses for subsequent quantitative analysis. Numerical estimates require their own supporting evidence, and a forecast derived from a qualitative assumption does not independently validate that assumption. Final interpretation must reconcile the qualitative findings with the completed quantitative results.

2.2.2. Secondary Research

Secondary evidence is interpreted according to what its issuer can establish. Official supplier portfolios and business materials can describe advertised offerings, stated channels, and service commitments. Mandatory filings and public ownership or licensing records can establish disclosed corporate and contractual facts. Regulatory records address the named activity, jurisdiction, and effective period rather than customer adoption.

Official statistics and transparent institutional or association data can contextualize relevant industrial activity when their boundaries match the question. Public buyer policies and awards can establish the requirements or commitments of the named purchasing relationship, but do not automatically establish industry-wide practice. Evidence is assessed at the claim level, including its effective period, commercial scope, and underlying authority.

2.3. Research Framework

The framework links definition, classification, commercial participation, comparison, and business decisions. Product Function identifies the chemical's commercial role; Treatment Platform and Substrate Material locate its treatment context; Treatment Objective and End-Use Industry identify the intended outcome and downstream application. Buyer Operating Model, Supply Form, Sales Channel, and Chromium Chemistry provide additional purchasing and access perspectives.

Supplier comparisons require evidence of the relevant offering and business role, rather than general involvement in surface treatment. Measurement comparisons must address the same chemical boundary, geography, and period. Competitive interpretation then asks which documented capabilities and access conditions matter to the identified buyer, with unresolved prerequisites retained as conditions on the decision.

2.3.1. Qualitative Analysis

Qualitative analysis examines how specification ownership, supplier qualification, switching commitments, distribution rights, and service responsibilities influence commercial choices. Captive Finishing Operations and Contract Finishing Operations are assessed as distinct purchasing contexts, with attention to whether the chemical purchaser also controls approval for the treated article.

Alternative explanations for a purchasing decision remain distinguishable: application fit, customer requirements, regulatory access, continuity of supply, and supplier support are different commercial mechanisms. Technical suitability is not treated as proof of buyer acceptance, and a plausible substitution opportunity remains conditional until the relevant commercial requirements are established.

2.3.2. Quantitative Analysis

The quantitative framework uses the Global boundary, designated study periods, absolute USD reporting convention, and accepted chemical-offering hierarchy as consistency controls. Each segmentation axis provides a different view of the same market; classifications across Product Function, End-Use Industry, Substrate Material, and the other axes are not additive market components.

Where an offering has multiple functions, objectives, or application contexts, any attribution rule must be explicit before comparisons are made. Disclosed business facts, derived estimates, and scenarios remain distinguishable, and qualitative explanations do not independently establish numerical conclusions.

2.4. Market Size Estimation

The estimation boundary is the included Chemical Surface Treatment chemical offering, not the full value of treated articles, finishing services, treatment equipment, or a diversified supplier's operations. Any estimate must preserve that chemical boundary across the Global scope and designated study periods.

The accepted segmentation axes classify the same market from different perspectives. Numerical conclusions require their own supporting evidence and explicit attribution assumptions; a supplier's presence in a category, an advertised application, or a qualitative demand explanation does not establish a measured result.

2.4.1. Top-Down Approach

A top-down perspective serves as a scope and comparability check. A broader official or company business aggregate is relevant only to the extent that its included activities, geography, and period can be related to the studied chemical offerings; a general coatings or finishing business boundary is not interchangeable with Chemical Surface Treatment.

Any allocation from a broader aggregate requires support for the included activity and its exclusions. End-use industrial activity provides commercial context, not an automatic allocation to treatment chemicals, and unsupported proportional assumptions must not be presented as observed demand.

2.4.2. Bottom-Up Approach

A bottom-up perspective connects documented supplier participation and included chemical offerings to the accepted taxonomy. Its analytical role is to distinguish attributable surface-treatment chemical activity from a diversified company's broader business, without treating a product listing as proof of realized commercial activity.

Successive manufacturer, distributor, and reseller relationships involving the same offering are not automatically separate market contributions. Any aggregation must make its chemical boundary and treatment of overlapping commercial roles explicit before supplier-level observations can support a consistent market interpretation.

2.5. Data Triangulation

Triangulation assesses whether accounts addressing the same claim refer to comparable offerings, legal entities, geographies, and periods. A supplier portfolio, regulatory permission, and buyer requirement may provide complementary information, but each answers a different commercial question and cannot substitute for the others.

Repeated accounts with a common underlying origin do not provide independent corroboration. Conflicting evidence is assessed for differences in authority, effective period, and scope, with uncertainty retained around the disputed business fact. Qualitative interpretations can challenge an explanation or classification, while numerical conclusions require their own evidentiary support.

2.6. Research Outcomes

The intended outcome is decision support that distinguishes included chemical offerings, documented supplier participation, buyer approval requirements, and commercially accessible supply routes. It should clarify which qualifications, rights, and service commitments are relevant before a buyer changes suppliers or a supplier commits to a customer or channel.

For suppliers and investors, the analysis is intended to support portfolio positioning, customer targeting, distribution and licensing choices, and capability assessment. Recommendations depend on the evidence for the particular offering, commercial relationship, jurisdiction, and application rather than on category membership alone.

2.7. Research Assumptions

- The accepted segmentation axes describe different attributes of the same chemical market. An offering associated with several functions, objectives, or applications must not be counted repeatedly merely because it appears in multiple analytical views.

- Commercial activity is attributed to the included chemical offering rather than automatically to an organization's entire portfolio. Conclusions about a diversified supplier depend on a defensible connection between its disclosed business and the studied offering.
- Products within the same category are candidates for comparison, not presumed substitutes. A switching conclusion depends on the relevant buyer's acceptance, application requirements, and applicable legal status.
- Buyer Operating Model and End-Use Industry are separate attributes. The party purchasing treatment chemicals is not assumed to be the party controlling approval for the finished article, so commercial access depends on identifying the relevant decision authority.

2.8. Research Limitations

- An announcement, advertised application, or regulatory authorization does not by itself demonstrate routine customer adoption or local commercial availability. Conclusions about participation and access require evidence specific to the offering and jurisdiction.
- A distributor listing or collaboration announcement does not establish exclusivity, territorial rights, continuing delivery obligations, or access to every customer. Channel choices remain conditional on the scope and effective terms of the relevant commercial relationship.
- A disclosure spanning broader chemicals, coatings, equipment, or finishing activities cannot by itself isolate the included surface-treatment chemical business. Comparisons must remain bounded to the activity that can be attributed to the study definition.
- Differences in reporting periods, corporate scope, geographic coverage, or currency presentation can prevent like-for-like comparison. Apparent differences must not be interpreted as changes in competitive capability without reconciling those boundaries.

3. Executive Summary

3.1. Introduction

Chemical Surface Treatment is a Global, specification-led chemical market in which competitive access depends on an accepted application and accountable supply relationship, not catalog breadth alone. Chemetall's industrial cleaning and conversion offerings and FUJIFILM's advanced-packaging polishing material address different purchasing functions; their shared market classification does not make them substitutes. Captive Finishing Operations and Contract Finishing Operations therefore need application-specific supplier comparisons.

Commercial access can depend on authorities beyond the chemical purchaser. Boeing Q020 requires approved processing sources for covered work, while REACH authorization governs specified uses of listed substances. These are bounded conditions, not universal approval rules. The principal choice is between a permitted, accepted incumbent and an alternative whose acceptance, delivery and support obligations are demonstrably suitable. Portfolio presence or a composition claim cannot independently establish that alternative's usability.

3.2. CXO Perspective

Supplier executives should allocate commercial resources to a named chemical function and account-specific acceptance route rather than portfolio-wide displacement. Qnity Electronics, Inc. discloses that customer material acceptance does not produce immediate or uniform commercial conversion, making acceptance and purchasing commitments distinct investment milestones. Incumbents can defend continuity through explicit fulfillment and support obligations; specialists can compete for an accepted function without replicating every adjacent service.

For captive and contract finishers, resource-efficiency propositions require a buyer-specific business case. Henkel's BONDERITE M-AD 2000A provides a concrete aluminum-anodizing alternative, but supplier-reported benefits do not establish the outcome at another facility. Procurement and facility cost owners should weigh relevant operating benefits against transition, support and interruption burdens, retaining an accepted incumbent when the proposed change is not commercially justified.

Resilience also requires distinguishing another seller from another technology principal. C&V's stated Química Sigma license illustrates why another producer need not represent independent technology. Unsettled legal identities and product-principal relationships limit which participants can be treated as independent fallbacks; product-specific confirmation should precede reliance on them.

Sources & Evidence

1. Terms and Conditions: Q020 - D1-4426 Approved Process Source
   · The applicable processing-source requirement provides a documented account-access condition supporting focused commercial commitments rather than catalog-based displacement assumptions. The undated disclosure does not establish current operative license terms. (cyvindustrias.com)

3.3. New Revenue Opportunities

Assessed revenue openings center on identifiable chemical-selection events: resource-efficiency reviews by aluminum anodizers considering Henkel's BONDERITE M-AD 2000A; local access to specialist conversion chemistry through the CHEMEON-SurTec alliance; and program-specific polishing or deposition purchases involving FUJIFILM and Qnity. Each remains conditional on the buyer's accepted application and accountable destination supply; supplier-reported adoption or benefits do not transfer to another account. The Opportunity Mapping section details these routes. Thermal Management and Biological Interface Performance remain included objectives, but dedicated-entry commitments require clearer links among the chemical, purchasing counterparty and accepted application.

(surtec.com)

3.4. Next-Generation Business Models

Commercial models extend beyond a separable chemical purchase. Element Solutions discloses an equipment sale associated with a multi-year chemistry agreement, while Henkel advertises BONDERITE Lineguard Process Control xx.xx monitoring and traceability. These are documented contractual and service propositions, not evidence of universal bundled adoption or exclusivity. Buyers should compare equivalent chemical, equipment and support scopes and agree record-access, renewal, transition and exit responsibilities. Integration can simplify accountability; separable commitments preserve flexibility but require additional coordination.

The CHEMEON-SurTec alliance illustrates a complementary channel model, combining SurTec's international infrastructure and local expertise with CHEMEON's U.S. access. Its commercial value remains conditional on product-and-destination responsibilities and customer acceptance. Partner-mediated access adds reach but introduces execution dependence; direct supply remains preferable where the principal can fulfill the account's obligations itself. These adjacent commitments shape chemical purchasing without enlarging the chemical-offering boundary.

3.5. Industry Roadmap

During 2026-2027, prioritize continuity and confirmed commercial milestones. Surventis's July xx.xx 2026 launch retained Chemetall and announced unchanged products and technical teams, supporting account-responsibility checks rather than presumed chemical replacement. FUJIFILM's October xx.xx 2026 announcement schedules additional Mesa CMP facilities for operation in 2027. Buyers should distinguish confirmed existing supply from dependence on the addition and require documented operation and product-specific availability before treating it as a backup.

For 2028-2029, further program and geographic commitments should follow alignment of acceptance, purchasing decisions and destination obligations. Qnity's qualification-linked commercial conversion and Borer's country-specific assortment limits caution against equating elapsed time or worldwide representation with usable access. Applicable use-specific authorization conditions remain a separate legal checkpoint throughout these horizons.

For 2030-2032, longer-term renewals should establish record access, service-transition duties and the implications of changing chemical suppliers within integrated relationships. Where those rights remain unsettled, separable commitments preserve flexibility at the cost of additional coordination. The sequence is conditional on commercial and legal milestones, not a uniform replacement timetable.

Sources & Evidence

1. Surventis launches as an independent global leader in automotive coatings and surface treatment
   · Surventis launched independently on July xx.xx 2026, retained Chemetall among its brands and announced unchanged products and technical teams. 4. Authorisation

   · The use-specific authorization framework supports retaining applicable legal permission as a separate checkpoint in conditional commercial commitments. (single-market-economy.ec.europa.eu)

4.2. Key Growth Contribution

Buyer-led supply-chain requirements can reopen chemical sourcing without changing the chemical's purchased surface function. TSMC reports adopting aqueous ammonia derived from blue ammonia at Fab 14A in the fourth quarter of 2025, supported by carbon-footprint verification and procurement standardization. This demonstrates an adoption mechanism for Surface Cleanliness and Contamination Control: suppliers need attributable supply-chain documentation as well as an accepted chemical and accountable delivery arrangement. The opportunity is conditional on another buyer adopting comparable purchasing requirements; a lower-carbon claim alone does not establish transferable acceptance or a commercially preferable replacement.

4.3. Industry Ecosystem & Value Chain Analysis

Value creation connects a chemical's commercial function to an accepted finished article, while value capture can depend on the surrounding supply relationship. MKS reports that its chemistry-equipment customers generally also choose its chemicals. ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■

4.3.1. Supply-Side Analysis

Supplier capability includes the documented service relationship as well as the named chemical offering. [redacted] Buyers should establish the responsible local entity and service scope; suppliers without comparable coverage face a commercial fulfillment question even when their product function matches the requirement.

[redacted] Customers should verify contracting entities, delivery obligations, and applicable recognition rather than assume either disruption or automatic contractual continuity. Keeping the established offering may avoid a product change, while updated account documentation can still be necessary.

4.3.2. Demand-Side Analysis

Chemical purchasing and article approval are separate commercial authorities. Boeing's Q020 clause requires applicable sellers and subcontractors to use approved processing sources and retain conformity documentation. ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪

Environmental authorities and employees expose the facility operator to obligations that cannot be delegated by purchasing a branded offering. EPA connects metal-finishing discharge requirements to facility permits or control mechanisms, while OSHA assigns chromium(VI) hazard-communication responsibilities across relevant supply-chain participants and employers. ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪

4.4. Market Dynamics

[illegible] This is a company-specific observation, not a uniform Global market trajectory. Suppliers must distinguish account continuity from discretionary changes tied to customer budgets and program decisions.

[illegible] Useful commercial indicators are therefore changes in accepted-source status, purchase commitments, and delivery-performance standing. Product announcements alone cannot settle whether a selection event has become a continuing supply relationship.

4.4.1. Key Drivers

4.4.1.1. Compliance-led review of chemical alternatives

4.4.1.2. Mixed-material specifications create selection events

4.4.1.4. Resource-efficiency propositions influence purchasing

4.4.2. Key Restraints

4.4.2.1. Customer approval constrains immediate switching

■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ A chemical supplier's product listing therefore cannot independently open the account. Buyers seeking another route need confirmation that the proposed source satisfies the actual purchase contract; retaining an accepted supplier avoids an access interruption but can leave fewer immediately usable alternatives.

4.4.2.2. Facility compliance obligations remain with the buyer

Facility-level wastewater obligations constrain purchasing beyond the chemical's advertised function. ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ Captive and contract finishing buyers must connect chemical selection to their own compliance position, balancing a change against continued fulfillment under the existing permitted arrangement.

4.4.3. Key Opportunities

4.4.3.1. Accepted alternatives for specific compliance requirements

A purchasing requirement excluding hexavalent chromium can open consideration of named trivalent conversion offerings, but not automatically of Chromium-Free offerings. ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ An already permitted and accepted incumbent remains the alternative when the proposed route does not satisfy those conditions.

4.4.3.2. Account-specific anodizing resource economics

4.4.4. Key Challenges

4.4.4.1. Coordinating chemical changes with customer acceptance

Replacing a restricted or undesirable chemistry requires coordination between the chemical purchaser and the authority governing the finished article. Atotech's advertised alternatives establish candidates, while Boeing's purchase clause demonstrates that processing-source requirements can remain contractually binding. [redacted]

Sources & Evidence

1. Terms and Conditions: Q020 - D1-4426 Approved Process Source
   - The clause establishes a customer-controlled source requirement that remains relevant to a proposed commercial change. (boeingsuppliers.com)
2. Functional chrome coatings
   - The named offerings establish advertised alternatives, not customer-specific acceptance. (atotech.com)

4.4.4.2. Assigning channel and service responsibilities

An intermediary relationship does not establish every commercial obligation needed to serve an account. [redacted] Intermediation can provide access, while unclear obligations can leave the buyer without an accountable fulfillment party.

Sources & Evidence

1. Find a distributor
   - The locator provides distributor discovery but does not state individual exclusivity, territory, stock, or service obligations. (next.henkel-adhesives.com)

4.4.4.3. Converting localization announcements into accepted supply

[redacted] The commercial question is whether the relevant surface-treatment material reaches buyer acceptance under a binding supply arrangement. Local purchasing commitments and commencement of accepted supply would distinguish execution from intent; reliance before those events exposes buyers and partners to schedule uncertainty.

4.5. Porter’s Five Forces Analysis

Rivalry is application-specific rather than a contest among universally interchangeable chemicals. ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ Portfolio breadth can simplify purchasing, whereas a specialist may compete on an accepted application and local support rather than matching an incumbent's entire catalog.

Buyer power and entry barriers arise at different points. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ Qualification restricts immediate switching, but it does not eliminate buyer leverage when another accepted source exists.

Downstream bargaining can instead reflect the supported operating relationship: MKS reports that its chemistry-equipment customers generally also choose its chemicals, an association that does not establish contractual exclusivity.

[redacted] Qnity's disclosed qualification-linked commercial conversion provides a separate counterforce: even an accepted material can precede a continuing purchasing relationship.

The constructive scenario is that applicable legal decisions, buyer acceptance and enforceable supply obligations align, allowing a supplier to capture a defined application. The continuity scenario is that those events occur at different times, leaving an accepted incumbent preferable while alternatives remain under commercial review. [redacted]

4.7.1. Near-Term Market Outlook (0-2 Years)

During 2026-2027, continuity review is more defensible than assuming that a corporate transition forces chemical replacement. Surventis's July xx.xx 2026 launch announcement retained Chemetall and stated that products and technical teams would continue. [redacted]

4.7.2. Medium-Term Market Outlook (3-5 Years)

For 2028-2029, commercial assessment should shift from announced introductions to repeatable program and destination coverage. 4.7.3. Long-Term Market Outlook (5-10 Years)

For 2030-2032, the strategic choice is whether the chemical remains a separable purchase or forms part of a continuing support relationship. Element Solutions' disclosed multi-year chemistry arrangement and Henkel's advertised connected-monitoring offering establish commercial precedents, not proof that all buyers will accept bundled dependence. ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■

Longer-term commitments should therefore turn on rights and continuity as well as product acceptance. 4.8. Go-to-Market Strategy

A new entrant should target a defined chemical purchase and identify the paying operation, acceptance authority and destination before funding broad account coverage. ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ An incumbent should defend an existing relationship through explicit continuity commitments, while a specialist should pursue the accepted function it can actually serve rather than promise portfolio-wide replacement.

■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ The chemical principal still needs to meet its agreed product and documentation obligations, and customer acceptance remains separate. Direct engagement is preferable when the supplier can meet those obligations itself; an alliance announcement is not a substitute for an effective account arrangement.

■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ A prospective license-dependent business should defer commitment until the principal confirms operative product, territory, duration and commercial responsibility. Confirmed branded supply from Sigma or its applicable channel is a materially different alternative: it avoids assuming new technology rights, although it still requires product-specific fulfillment terms.

Commercial proposals should separate the chemical commitment from optional equipment, monitoring and support obligations. Element Solutions' disclosed equipment-linked chemistry agreement demonstrates why a bundled relationship needs a clear contractual perimeter.

5. Market Insights

5.1. Consumer Insights & End-User Perspective

Buyer choice is divided between the finishing operation's sourcing decision and the downstream customer's acceptance authority. Boeing's Q020 clause, effective October xx.xx 2024, requires approved processing sources for applicable work, extends that requirement into applicable subcontracts and preserves the seller's responsibility. ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪

5.2. Consumer Experience Benchmarking

Public service offerings support comparison by buyer need, not a common customer-satisfaction score. ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ None alone establishes better delivery performance or equivalence between chemicals.

5.3. Opportunity Mapping

[redacted] Where a downstream customer controls processing-source acceptance, the purchaser's interest must be accompanied by confirmation that the proposed route is usable. An accepted specialist can compete for a defined function without replacing the incumbent's complete portfolio; the incumbent can counter with continuity and a consolidated support commitment.

[redacted] This route is unsuitable where the required destination supply is unconfirmed, the advertised benefit does not address a material buyer cost, or transition obligations outweigh the supported benefit. A product-specific supply commitment and an internally accepted business case are stronger capture indicators than the environmental label alone.

[redacted]

[redacted] An incumbent already meeting those obligations remains a meaningful alternative. Borer's warning that legal and licensing requirements reduce its assortment in some countries demonstrates why neither a worldwide portfolio nor regional representation establishes complete local access.

[redacted] Suppliers should select the precise polishing or deposition requirement and release additional account resources against named-program acceptance and purchasing commitments. Buyers should compare functional alternatives and accountable supply routes, not presume that materials serving the same package are substitutes.

Thermal Management and Biological Interface Performance remain included objectives, but category membership is not an investment case. Entry under either objective requires a named treatment chemical, an identifiable purchasing counterparty and a documented acceptance relationship. [redacted]

5.4. Distribution Channel Analysis

[redacted] These establish channel-discovery and organizational footprints, not inventory, territorial exclusivity or delivery commitments for a named chemical. The local seller, importer where applicable, documentation provider and service escalation owner must be identified for each account.

A distributor route can address local ordering and fulfillment when the intermediary expressly accepts those obligations; direct selling retains the manufacturer interface but requires adequate supplier account coverage. Neither route automatically resolves customer acceptance. [redacted]

5.5. Pricing Trend Analysis

[redacted] The company also protects products through patents, trade secrets and contracts, while many proprietary products are unpatented. Patent status alone therefore does not settle sourcing freedom.

[redacted] For covered merchandise, procurement should establish the responsible importer and allocation of customs-related costs before accepting a sourcing proposal. A different origin may change trade exposure without establishing customer acceptance of the replacement supply route.

5.6. Regulatory Compliance & Standards Framework

European chemical access is use-specific rather than determined by a broad chromium label. REACH Annex XIV authorization concerns defined uses, and EASA identifies chromium-trioxide corrosion-prevention surface treatment as an aviation authorization example. [redacted]

Great Britain requires a separate jurisdictional assessment. HSE states that UK REACH and EU REACH operate independently, with EU REACH continuing in Northern Ireland. ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■

U.S. facility and employer obligations remain distinct from chemical sourcing. EPA incorporates applicable metal-finishing discharge requirements into permits or other control mechanisms and distinguishes related facility categories; its chrome-finishing PFAS initiative is described as rulemaking for a subset of facilities. ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■

Notification relying on upstream authorization is required within three months of receipt after publication of the decision.
   (hse.gov.uk)

5.7. ESG & Sustainability Analysis

Buyer-led decarbonization can change sourcing even when the chemical's commercial function remains unchanged. TSMC reports adopting aqueous ammonia derived from blue ammonia at Fab 14A in the fourth quarter of 2025, alongside carbon-footprint verification and procurement standardization. ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■

Documentation and corrective-action responsibilities can preserve access, but a corporate sustainability pledge does not demonstrate compliance at the relevant supplying entity.

Resource-efficiency offerings require a separate, facility-specific assessment. Henkel's August 2025 BONDERITE M-AD 2000A announcement reports European availability, Qualanod approval and a gradual wider rollout, with supplier-claimed energy and material benefits. ■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■

5.8. Disruption & Risk Scenarios

[illegible]
Monitor operative decisions, applicable expiry conditions and written customer acceptance. Retain an existing route only while its permission remains valid; avoid commitments that depend on uncovered use.

Trade-related disruption is narrower than the entire chemical market. Commerce's chromium-trioxide determinations for India and Turkey, applicable October xx.xx 2026, distinguish import instructions from subsequent injury and duty-order decisions. [illegible]

A change in contractual responsibility could weaken continuity even when the product remains unchanged. Surventis announced product and team continuity, which counters an assumption of automatic disruption. [illegible]

A planned local facility could fail to become a usable supply route on the buyer's required timetable. [illegible]

[illegible] Suppliers and channel partners should avoid irreversible local account commitments supported only by a facility announcement.

5.9. Return on Investment & Cost-Benefit Analysis

[illegible]

[redacted] Applicable EPA permit or control obligations remain part of the covered operator's position; a replacement should not be credited with removing obligations that still apply. Retaining an accepted incumbent is preferable when the proposed benefits do not outweigh these continuing and transitional burdens.

For a chemical supplier, direct coverage and intermediary access have different economic conditions. [redacted] In either case, incremental commitment should follow an identifiable acceptance route and an enforceable customer relationship, rather than an announcement-led sales assumption.

[redacted] Keeping treatment captive preserves the direct chemical-supplier interface and scheduling control but retains the corresponding ownership and facility responsibilities. Neither route has an established cost advantage without the buyer's actual commitments.

6. Cumulative Impact of Artificial Intelligence 2026

[redacted] Its potential influence on chemical-supplier selection depends on compatible infrastructure, usable records and a support agreement. Buyers should establish data access, service continuity and chemical-switching rights before accepting an integrated relationship.

Reported adoption remains narrower than a claim of market-wide transformation. [redacted] Procurement, quality and information-security functions should govern business-information uses together; automated outputs should not be treated as supplier commitments or customer acceptance.

7. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Product Function

Product Function changes the appropriate purchasing comparison: an individual chemical, a multifunctional product, and a supported chemical package are not equivalent commercial propositions. Sources & Evidence

1. Cooperative Patent Classification - C23G Definitions
   · Taxonomy evidence: The glossary includes removal of nonmetallic inorganic coatings within pickling. Assigning applied-film removal to Strippers is therefore an explicit commercial-purpose allocation convention, not a claim that CPC terminology supplies exclusive peers. (uspto.gov)
2. Cooperative Patent Classification - C25F Definitions
   · Taxonomy evidence: C25F includes electrolytic removal of metallic coatings, supporting stripping chemistry beyond paint removal. (uspto.gov)
3. Cooperative Patent Classification - C09D Scheme

1. Cooperative Patent Classification - C23G Definitions
   - Taxonomy evidence: C23G lists etching and several cleaning or stripping expressions among overlapping patent usages. Documented purchased purpose, rather than a product name alone, is required to distinguish retained pickling preparations from etchants and applied-coating strippers. (uspto.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The C23G glossary associates pickling with removal of rust, scale, and corrosion deposits. It also records overlapping terminology, so product labels alone cannot establish allocation. (uspto.gov)
2. Cooperative Patent Classification - C25F Definitions

8. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Treatment Platform

Treatment Platform should be assessed at the chemical-purchase level rather than inferred from the identity of an entire finishing installation. The European Commission's published industry reference describes installations combining chemical and electrolytic activities. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■

The commercial alternatives also extend beyond superficially similar product functions. Atotech markets Printoganth electroless-copper offerings within Nonelectrolytic Chemical Treatment, while its DynaChrome Plus proposition combines equipment and chemistry for an electrolytic application. ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■

For an incumbent buyer, replacing a chemical within an accepted platform and changing an integrated supplier relationship are different decisions. ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ Platform labels alone establish neither a switching barrier nor freedom to switch.

Sources & Evidence

1. Pretreatment solutions

   · The portfolio distinguishes soak cleaners from electrocleaners and immersion from electrolytic stripping offerings. Preparation and removal functions therefore cross the platform distinction. (atotech.com)

2. Surface Treatment of Metals and Plastics

· The European Commission's industry reference describes installations combining chemical and electrolytic activities. This supports purchase-level platform analysis rather than assigning an entire installation exclusively to one platform.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

· Taxonomy evidence: The European industrial reference explicitly covers electrolytic and chemical surface treatment of metals and plastics and notes that installations can contain both. This supports the two-platform distinction; assigning individual chemical purchases by their own treatment step is an analytical inference.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

· Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The Commission recognizes mixed chemical/electrolytic installations, supporting treatment-purchase rather than whole-installation attribution.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

· Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The Commission recognizes mixed chemical/electrolytic installations, supporting treatment-purchase rather than whole-installation attribution.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

· Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: Recognized electrolytic activities coexist with chemical activities; installation presence is not a chemical-sales weight.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

· Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: Recognized electrolytic activities coexist with chemical activities; installation presence is not a chemical-sales weight.
(bureau-industrial-transformation.jrc.ec.europa.eu)

3. Wear resistance

· Atotech advertises DynaChrome Plus as a combination of equipment and chemistry tailored to complement each other. This establishes an integrated proposition, not contractual exclusivity.
(atotech.com)

4. Desmear and metallization

· The advertised electroless-copper portfolio establishes a nonelectrolytic deposition example; nonelectrolytic treatment is therefore not synonymous with cleaning.
(atotech.com)

· Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The electroless-copper commercial portfolio establishes deposition within the nonelectrolytic platform, not its revenue proportion.
(atotech.com)

· Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The electroless-copper commercial portfolio establishes deposition within the nonelectrolytic platform, not its revenue proportion.
(atotech.com)

5. Cooperative Patent Classification - C25F Definitions

(uspto.gov)

6. ASTM A967/A967M-25 - Chemical Passivation of Stainless Steel Parts

· Taxonomy evidence: Recognition of chemical and electrochemical alternatives for the same passivation function supports treating purchased function and treatment platform as separate axes.

9. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Treatment Objective

Wear and Friction Performance and Appearance and Optical Performance can produce different shortlists within the same end-use setting. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ Procurement should identify whether acceptance rests with appearance requirements, functional requirements, or both; consolidating these purchases is appropriate only when the proposed offering covers the complete accepted requirement.

Surface Cleanliness and Contamination Control should likewise remain distinct from Dimensional and Surface Texture Control. ISO xx.xx:2018 addresses documented particulate-cleanliness requirements for road-vehicle components and excludes grease and oil films from its scope. ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■

10. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by End-Use Industry

End-use targeting should follow the article and its acceptance relationship rather than a supplier's industry list. ■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ A supplier seeking these accounts must distinguish an advertised application from recognition under the customer's actual requirements; participation in one program does not establish access to another.

■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ This is supplier-reported adoption, not transferable acceptance at another buyer. Sales commitments should follow the maintenance purchaser or the target electronics program's accepted material and supply relationship, rather than assume both are accessible through a general finishing account.

■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ Tool reconditioning, architectural finishing, and can-manufacturing cleaning are distinct commercial purposes. A supplier can pursue more than one only where its named products and accountable support fit each application; a broad industrial portfolio is not sufficient evidence of that fit.

■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ These examples favor application-specific selling over a uniform consumer-goods proposition. The relevant manufacturer or finishing purchaser must establish the offering's acceptance; medical, indoor-appliance, and outdoor-use claims are not transferable between these settings.

Within Jewelry, Personal Accessories, and Coinage, Atotech's fashion and jewelry applications differ from the denomination-specific specifications published by The Royal Mint. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ The examples support distinct specification relationships, not a common approval system.

Sources & Evidence

1. General Metal Finishing

   · Atotech advertises an automotive OEM-facing support interface, supplier-reported automotive approvals, and fashion and jewelry applications. These establish advertised relationships and applications, not transferable customer recognition.

2. Fujifilm Launches Advanced Packaging CMP Slurry

11. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Buyer Operating Model

Buyer Operating Model changes who purchases the chemicals and who is accountable for delivering the treated article, but it does not independently determine approval authority. PRI recognizes both internally manufacturing captive suppliers and suppliers performing processing as a service to others within Nadcap. ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■

The alternative of keeping finishing captive preserves a direct chemical-supplier interface but also retains the corresponding facility responsibilities.

12. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Supply Form

Supply Form changes the commercial product being ordered without necessarily changing its broad function. Liquids and Dry Solids both occur within established treatment categories: Zaclon advertises solution and solid galvanizing fluxes, and SurTec distinguishes powder SurTec xx.xx IT Hardwall from liquid SurTec xx.xx Hardwall sealing products. ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■

Form can also be an explicit purchasing attribute. MIL-DTL-81706B with Amendment xx.xx dated 2006, distinguishes concentrated and premixed liquids, thixotropic liquids, and powder conversion materials. ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■

A form change is defensible only when the accepted offering and fulfillment responsibilities are settled; format alone establishes neither suitability nor a reduced compliance burden.

· Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: Zaclon markets galvanizing fluxes in solution form; the listing does not measure its value mix. (zaclon.com)

· Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: Zaclon markets galvanizing fluxes in solution form; the listing does not measure its value mix. (zaclon.com)

· Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The same functional family is also marketed in solid form, preventing liquid-only classification of that family. (zaclon.com)

· Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The same functional family is also marketed in solid form, preventing liquid-only classification of that family. (zaclon.com)

2. Value-added Anodizing Portfolio

· SurTec identifies SurTec xx.xx IT Hardwall as a powder cold seal and SurTec xx.xx Hardwall as a liquid product. These are distinct named offerings within a functional family. (surtec.com)

· Taxonomy evidence: Section xx.xx.xx.xx distinguishes liquid and powder forms, including a thixotropic liquid; thixotropy alone therefore does not establish gel classification. (quicksearch.dla.mil)

4. Post weld cleaning using pickling pastes

Direct Sales and Distributor and Reseller Sales differ principally in who owns the commercial sale, not in the ordering interface or delivery vehicle. ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ An online order or direct shipment is not sufficient evidence of a direct manufacturer relationship.

Manufacturer selection and logistical coordination can also remain separate. 14. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Substrate Material

[redacted] Ferrous Metals and Nonferrous Metals therefore support both material-specific and mixed-material sourcing propositions. A captive buyer should consolidate only where the accepted offerings cover the actual material requirements; a broad metal portfolio does not establish universal interchangeability.

Polymers and Polymer Composites require a separate application-level comparison. Atotech markets Adhemax for named plastics including ABS, PP and ABS/PC blends. [redacted]

[redacted] This supports a bonding-system selection context, not equivalence across all glass and ceramic applications. Procurement should establish the accepted treatment and bonding relationship without extending the chemical purchase to the full value of adhesives, sealants or finished glazing.

Semiconductor Materials require application-specific sourcing. [redacted] Buyers should verify the named material's acceptance and supply arrangement rather than import a general industrial-finishing approval.

15. Chemical Surface Treatment Market, by Chromium Chemistry

Chromium Chemistry creates different purchasing questions rather than a single chromium-versus-no-chromium choice. ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ Procurement declarations must distinguish exclusion of hexavalent chromium from exclusion of chromium generally before suppliers are compared.

A composition category is therefore not a substitute for the applicable legal record or customer acceptance.

Product listings establish candidates, not local availability or application-wide equivalence.

Asia-Pacific supplier coverage differs by commercial role, not merely by the presence of a regional office. ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ A regional account relationship becomes useful when those responsibilities are assigned for each destination.

■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ A regional chemical agreement therefore cannot replace approval by the functions responsible for the receiving facility. Consolidation is defensible when documentation and delivery obligations are maintained by country; separate arrangements remain preferable when a common supplier cannot support those differences.

■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ An entrant should establish the applicable Brazilian implementing requirements and responsible commercial entity before committing to that route. A distributor's regional coverage is useful only where it includes the actual destination obligations, rather than an assumed region-wide approval.

■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ Suppliers should distinguish an EU-facing purchasing review from a Great Britain supply arrangement instead of treating European coverage as one permission. Consolidating commercial coordination may simplify account management, but the relevant legal entity, use coverage and customer acceptance must remain identifiable for each route.

■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ Captive buyers should establish whether the purchasing entity and relevant inputs qualify before structuring imports around that benefit. A distributor route remains an alternative where direct-import administration would outweigh the buyer's demonstrated benefit; the UAE example does not establish equivalent treatment elsewhere in the region.

[illegible] South Africa also assigns chemical-documentation responsibilities to covered manufacturers, importers and suppliers. Buyers should identify the actual seller and accountable documentation provider; suppliers should choose local representation only where its contractual responsibilities address the destination requirement.
