1. Preface

1.1. Objectives of the Study

- How do Trading Card Game Cards and Non-Game Trading Cards differ in buyer use, required supplier capabilities and commercial relationships across Physical Cards and Native-Digital Cards?
- Where do intellectual-property rights, territorial permissions, publisher or platform approvals, and distribution arrangements constrain the ability to offer, distribute or resell particular cards?
- What purchasing conditions distinguish Household Buyers, Commercial Buyers, and Public and Nonprofit Buyers, and how do purchaser authority, end-user age and purchase purpose affect qualification and channel choice?
- What limits substitution or switching between card offerings, ecosystems and sellers, including gameplay compatibility, collection continuity, transfer rights, certification acceptance and buyer trust?
- How do sales formats and channels affect customer access, inventory exposure, fulfillment responsibilities and the allocation of obligations among publishers, distributors, sellers and intermediaries?
- What possession, account-access, custody and transfer conditions distinguish Possession-Based Holdings, Centralized Account Ledgers and Blockchain Token Ledgers, and what must a buyer verify before relying on them?
- How do Uncertified Cards, Authentication-Only Cards and Condition-Graded Cards differ as buyer propositions, and what evidence establishes acceptance by the relevant buyer or sales intermediary?
- How do Primary Sales and Secondary Sales differ in seller role, buyer expectations, rights and transaction responsibilities across the Global market and the study periods?
- Which documented offerings, commercial rights and channel commitments support competitive differentiation, and what prerequisites and trade-offs should inform direct entry, licensing or distribution partnerships?

1.2. Market Definition

The Global Trading Card market covers the commercial provision and exchange of Trading Card Game Cards and Non-Game Trading Cards across the Physical Cards and Native-Digital Cards categories. Primary Sales and Secondary Sales are included. Possession-Based Holdings, Centralized Account Ledgers and Blockchain Token Ledgers are distinct ownership-infrastructure contexts within the study; their inclusion does not imply equivalent legal rights or transfer conditions.

The offering boundary includes all specified sales formats, including Card Break Allocations and Uncut Card Sheets. Household Buyers, Commercial Buyers, and Public and Nonprofit

Buyers are included, with purchaser identity distinguished from end-user age and purchase purpose. Themes, channels and physical certification status provide additional views of these offerings rather than separate definitions of the market.

Rights holders, publishers, manufacturing partners, distributors, sellers, platforms and downstream buyers are examined insofar as their commercial relationships explain access to or exchange of the included card offerings. Standalone printing inputs, protective accessories, certification services, custody services and general-purpose platform infrastructure are adjacent activities rather than card offerings merely because they support this market. Their role is to explain rights, assurance, delivery or access conditions, without expanding the offering boundary to every activity of a participating supplier. The geographic boundary remains Global.

1.3. Market Segmentation & Coverage

Card Function distinguishes Trading Card Game Cards from Non-Game Trading Cards. This axis supports comparison of the commercial role of gameplay with other collecting and use propositions without assuming that either function determines the buyer's sole purpose.

Sales Format includes Single Cards, Card Packs, Boxes and Multipacks, Card Cases, Decks and Starter Kits, Complete Card Sets, Card Lots and Mixed Bundles, Card Break Allocations, and Uncut Card Sheets. These formats distinguish what the buyer acquires and the seller's associated responsibilities; inclusion does not imply equivalent entitlements, selection certainty or fulfillment terms.

Ownership Infrastructure includes Possession-Based Holdings, Centralized Account Ledgers, and Blockchain Token Ledgers. This axis examines the commercial arrangements through which holdings are recognized and accessed. It is separate from Card Medium and does not predetermine transferability, redemption or legal ownership.

Purchase Purpose includes Collecting; Gameplay, comprising Competitive Play and Casual Play; Gifting and Promotion; Investment and Resale; and Experiential Entertainment. These categories identify different purchase motivations, which can overlap within a transaction and should not automatically be treated as independent demand.

End-User Age Group includes Children, Teenage Minors, and Adults. It supports analysis of user suitability and access conditions while remaining distinct from the identity or authority of the purchaser.

Card Medium includes Physical Cards and Native-Digital Cards. Both are included offerings. Their commercial comparison concerns the card proposition, access and associated rights rather than an assumption that a digital record reproduces every attribute of a physical card.

Sales Channel includes Seller-Direct E-Commerce; Online Marketplaces & Auctions; Stores & Vending Machines; In-Person Shows, Auctions & Meetings; and Telephone, Mail & Message Orders. This axis distinguishes routes to the buyer and the commercial responsibilities of sellers and intermediaries.

Card Theme includes Sports, Entertainment & Art, Science & Nature, History & Society, and Multi-Theme Collections. Theme supports comparison of subject matter, relevant rights relationships and buyer fit without establishing a supplier's participation in a particular category.

Transaction Stage includes Primary Sales and Secondary Sales. Both remain in scope, while the distinction preserves the different commercial roles of an initial sale and subsequent exchange. It does not itself establish how their economic activity should be combined.

Physical Card Certification includes Uncertified Cards, Authentication-Only Cards, and Condition-Graded Cards. This axis describes the certification status of physical offerings, not certification procedures or a guarantee of equivalence between providers.

Buyer Sector includes Household Buyers, Commercial Buyers, and Public and Nonprofit Buyers. It distinguishes purchasing relationships and decision authority. Across the hierarchy, the axes are independent analytical views except where a parent-child relationship is expressly specified; they do not create additive opportunities or alter the Global boundary.

RESEARCH SAMPLE REPORT

Sources & Evidence

1. The 2025 OECD definition of e-commerce and guidelines for interpretation

· Taxonomy evidence: The 2025 guidelines distinguish structured automated chatbot and voice orders from human-operated chat and manually typed messages. Applying that distinction avoids creating overlapping interface-based card channels. (oecd.org)

· Taxonomy evidence: The 2025 framework classifies e-commerce by the ordering method rather than payment or delivery, supporting separation of sales channel from fulfillment and collectible medium.

· Taxonomy evidence: Structured automated remote ordering qualifies as e-commerce. Assignment to seller-direct rather than marketplace commerce additionally depends on the actual seller relationship; this is an analytical application to card transactions. (oecd.org)

· Taxonomy evidence: Orders through dedicated web and app ordering systems qualify as e-commerce; delivery or payment need not occur online.

· Taxonomy evidence: The guidelines describe digital intermediaries facilitating third-party transactions without taking ownership and distinguish their intermediation fees from underlying transaction value. This supports keeping platform service revenue outside card-item consideration. (oecd.org)

· Taxonomy evidence: Human-operated chat without structured order processing remains outside the selected e-commerce definition; automated structured chatbot ordering is different. (oecd.org)

· Taxonomy evidence: The framework excludes telephone calls, fax, and manually typed messages from structured e-commerce, supporting a separately defined assisted-remote route.

· Taxonomy evidence: On-premise kiosk and QR-code ordering lacks the required remoteness and is excluded from the framework's e-commerce boundary. (oecd.org)

· Taxonomy evidence: On-premise mechanisms such as ordering kiosks are excluded from the framework's e-commerce boundary, supporting their treatment separately from remote online checkout.

2. 2022 Economic Census - Retail Trade Questionnaire RT-45398, Class of Customer and Method of Selling

· Taxonomy evidence: Items xx.xx and xx.xx ask separately about customer class and selling method. This directly supports treating purchaser sector and ordering route as different classification questions, while the retained three-sector global card grouping remains an analytical adaptation. (bhs.econ.census.gov)

· Taxonomy evidence: The official retail questionnaire distinguishes household consumers, resale customers, businesses purchasing for their own operations, and governmental bodies. These are reference purchaser classes, not an official global trading-card taxonomy. (bhs.econ.census.gov)

· Taxonomy evidence: The questionnaire separately lists e-commerce, permanent stores/showrooms, telephone/fax office selling, mail order, direct face-to-face selling away from fixed premises, and vending. These establishment-level references support route distinctions, not card-specific shares or the exact transaction-level consolidation. (bhs.econ.census.gov)

· Taxonomy evidence: Household consumers and individuals are an explicit customer class.

· Taxonomy evidence: The questionnaire separately recognizes resale customers and businesses purchasing for operational end use.

· Taxonomy evidence: Governmental bodies are an explicit purchaser class; the combined public/nonprofit category remains an analytical adaptation requiring card-specific evidence.

3. Spiegel et al. v. Goldin Auctions, LLC et al. - Memorandum Opinion, November 21, 2023

   · Taxonomy evidence: The November xx.xx 2023 opinion describes collectors as secondary-market resellers and recounts a pleaded 2014 physical-card purchase followed by a 2019 resale listing. This is a historical physical-card transaction-history example, not a global allocation or validation of the disputed card's authenticity. (govinfo.gov)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The court record distinguishes earlier acquisition from a later secondary-sale attempt, supporting transaction-history analysis. It does not establish the complete first-sell-through convention or current trading volumes. (govinfo.gov)

4. Guide to the Ronald S. Korda Collection of Sports and Trading Cards - Smithsonian Institution Finding Aid

   · Taxonomy evidence: The museum's finding aid places mixed-sports packs and named four-sport collections within its Sports series. Under the retained domain definitions, multiple sports remain Sports rather than establishing a cross-domain collection. This is an explicit analytical mapping of historical holdings. (sirismm.si.edu)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The mixed-sports records demonstrate why a mixed-content label alone cannot establish multiple subject domains. They do not verify the retained no-majority rule or a qualifying Multi-Theme Collections commercial offer. (sirismm.si.edu)

5. Investing in meaning: justifying card game collecting in an age of frictionless consumption

   · Taxonomy evidence: The original qualitative findings distinguish collectors' strategies for preserving personal meaning from parallel financial justifications presented to outsiders. This supports the requirement for documented decisive purchase purpose rather than automatic allocation from investment language. No introductory market-growth claim is used. (pure.eur.nl)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Original qualitative research on Magic: The Gathering collectors reports that hobby meaning and financial-value justification coexist, supporting the need to distinguish documented primary purpose from accompanying motives. No market-growth claims from the article's introduction are used. (pure.eur.nl)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The interview findings describe collecting practices maintained for personal and peer meaning, supporting a retention-oriented collecting purpose without establishing its spending share. (pure.eur.nl)

   · Taxonomy evidence: The researchers identify continued collecting as meaningful consumption rather than solely a financial transaction.

   · Taxonomy evidence: Financial-value justification can coexist with meaningful hobby collecting; its presence does not establish that financial return caused a particular purchase. The investment category therefore retains purchase-level evidence limitations. (pure.eur.nl)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Collectors invoke investment and financial-value arguments, but the study does not establish that these arguments were the decisive motive for every purchase.

6. Nice Classification - 2025 Alphabetical List of Goods, T
   - Taxonomy evidence: The 2025 international goods classification separately identifies game-oriented and nongame trading cards, supporting a functional distinction rather than a sports-versus-entertainment partition. (nclpub.wipo.int)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Class xx.xx includes game-specific trading cards, Basic No. xx.xx and trading card games, Basic No. xx.xx. (nclpub.wipo.int)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Class xx.xx separately identifies trading cards not intended for games, Basic No. xx.xx. This establishes the recognized nongame goods category, not a digital-goods tariff rule. (nclpub.wipo.int)
7. U.S. Customs and Border Protection - N359352: The Tariff Classification of Pokémon Trading Cards from Japan
   - Taxonomy evidence: The March xx.xx 2026 ruling distinguishes designed game function from the importer's intention to collect the cards. It supports the analytical function rule, not a worldwide tariff determination. (rulings.cbp.gov)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The ruling treats the inspected Pokémon cards as game components despite individual protective packaging and stated collector use. (rulings.cbp.gov)
8. Trading Cards Products for Sale - eBay
   - Taxonomy evidence: The marketplace's card-specific navigation distinguishes individual, packaged, collection, sheet, and split-opening configurations. Its categories establish commercial terminology, not global exhaustiveness or sales shares. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Individual-card purchases have a distinct marketplace category. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Unopened pack purchases are distinguished from box and case purchases. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Unopened boxes have a separate category; this directly supports the box component of the broader analytical grouping. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Case-level packaged purchases are separately recognized. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Checklist-complete collections are presented separately from card lots. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Card-lot commerce has a distinct purchase category. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Split box/case openings have their own purchase category. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: Intact uncut sheets are recognized as a collectible-card commerce format. (ebay.com)
9. Sealed Collectible Card Game Decks & Kits - eBay
   - Taxonomy evidence: The game-card catalog distinguishes unopened deck/kit products from player-built decks. Combining those configurations under a complete-deck family is an analytical grouping rather than a claim of identical distribution models. (ebay.com)
   - Taxonomy evidence: The same catalog recognizes repack commerce alongside unopened packs and boxes, supporting explicit treatment of repacks within configuration rules rather than automatic exclusion. (ebay.com)

10. Seller Guide to Refunds and Returns - TCGplayer

- Taxonomy evidence: The policy requires product-type-appropriate lot listings and explicitly distinguishes loose bulk packs from an intact booster box, even when pack quantities match. This supports configuration-based rules rather than quantity-based inference. (help.tcgplayer.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: Bulk card lots may contain specified or randomized cards, but their stated card counts and product descriptions must match what the buyer receives. (help.tcgplayer.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: Packs removed from their original box remain pack listings rather than becoming a box solely through matching quantities. (help.tcgplayer.com)

11. Card Breaks Policy - Whatnot Help Center

- Taxonomy evidence: The June xx.xx 2026 policy defines a break as allocating unopened product contents among multiple buyers according to disclosed criteria. (help.whatnot.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: The policy distinguishes a shared break from opening an entire pack, box, or case for its sole purchaser. This supports keeping whole-product rip-and-ship purchases in their original sales configuration. (help.whatnot.com)

12. Steam Trading Cards - Frequently Asked Questions

- Taxonomy evidence: The FAQ describes collectible inventory cards gathered into badge sets and exchanged through community mechanisms. Their classification as nongame digital collecting cards is a functional inference from those described uses, not an extension of physical-goods trademark classes. (steamcommunity.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: The FAQ places card holdings in a user's Steam Inventory and describes account-linked collection and exchange, establishing card-specific context for the platform's account-transfer terms. (steamcommunity.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: Steam documents account-based collectible trading cards that users can buy and sell through its Community Market, establishing a paid native-digital card transaction category.
- Taxonomy evidence: The Community Market facilitates trading-card purchases and sales between users, providing card-specific evidence of an intermediated online route.
- Taxonomy evidence: Cards already held by users may be transferred and sold to other users, establishing subsequent paid transfers in a native-digital card system.
- Taxonomy evidence: The documented distinction between card acquisition and later user-to-user sales supports transaction-history analysis, but does not establish the entire physical-card first-sell-through boundary.

13. Steam Subscriber Agreement

- Taxonomy evidence: The agreement treats virtual-item access rights as licenses rather than ownership of the content and authorizes platform-mediated transfers between accounts for marketplace transactions. (store.steampowered.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: The account-transfer and license provisions support distinguishing the infrastructure governing an entitlement from the digital content itself. (store.steampowered.com)

14. PSA Vault Terms of Service

- Taxonomy evidence: The terms, updated October xx.xx 2026, allow completed consignment sales to be fulfilled through changes in the vault's ownership records as well as shipment. This establishes centrally recorded holdings for tangible collectibles. (psacard.com)
- Taxonomy evidence: Physical release and record-based transfer are separately described, supporting the conclusion that physical medium does not uniquely determine entitlement infrastructure. (psacard.com)

15. NIST IR 8472 - Non-Fungible Token Security, March 2024
    - Taxonomy evidence: The report describes NFT ownership through blockchain records and distinguishes ownership of a token from ownership of its referenced asset. This supports a token-ledger technology family without assuming the underlying collectible's rights. (tsapps.nist.gov)
    - Taxonomy evidence: NFT technology can represent virtual or physical assets. The report therefore supports separating the entitlement infrastructure from collectible medium, rather than equating blockchain use with native-digital content. (tsapps.nist.gov)
16. WIPO - Examination Guidelines Concerning the Classification of Goods and Services in International Applications under the Madrid System, Fifth Edition, 2026
    - Taxonomy evidence: The guidelines describe NFTs as identifiers requiring specification of the underlying goods or services, rather than a standalone product classification. This supports keeping token technology distinct from the purchased card offering. (wipo.int)
    - Taxonomy evidence: NFT-related goods are classified by the underlying product; an NFT label alone does not establish that the object is an eligible trading card. (wipo.int)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The 2026 international examination guidelines distinguish downloadable virtual goods from the physical goods they resemble. Applying this distinction to cards is a classification adaptation, not evidence of market size or digital-card inclusion.
17. Courtyard - Terms of Service
    - Taxonomy evidence: The terms connect an asset's transfer to sale of its corresponding token and describe storage followed by delivery upon redemption. They provide a concrete entitlement-linked physical-asset model, not proof that every token conveys its referenced asset. (docs.courtyard.io)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The terms distinguish token ownership records, stored underlying assets, and subsequent redemption. This supports treating infrastructure and underlying collectible as separate dimensions. (docs.courtyard.io)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The Drops and Vending Machine provisions describe paid digital sealed packs containing a randomly assigned card, supporting a pack-level entitlement even when the underlying asset is stored separately. (docs.courtyard.io)
18. 35.4 Patch Notes - Hearthstone
    - Taxonomy evidence: The May xx.xx 2026 announcement identifies paid, specified digital card sets for Hearthstone, establishing a contemporary game-card entitlement offering separately from general software spending. (hearthstone.blizzard.com)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The announcement offers specified Class Sets directly and distinguishes them from packs and larger bundles. It supports fixed-content digital card sets without implying that every game purchase is card revenue. (hearthstone.blizzard.com)
    - Taxonomy evidence: Some announced bundles combine card sets with a cosmetic item, illustrating why card-only value allocation is needed before including mixed digital offers in the market denominator. (hearthstone.blizzard.com)
19. Estimated Preorder Release Dates - Pokémon Center Support
    - Taxonomy evidence: The October 2026 support schedule names card bundles, tins, trainer boxes, and display boxes. These named configurations supplement marketplace box terminology; estimated shipment dates do not establish completed fulfillment or global prevalence. (support.pokemoncenter.com)

20. Authenticity Guarantee for Trading Cards - eBay

    · Taxonomy evidence: The service description separately identifies an authentication QR reference and physical delivery of the inspected card to its buyer. This supports the conventional physical-holding baseline, but does not prove the absence of every possible entitlement ledger. (pages.ebay.com)

    · Taxonomy evidence: The card-specific service distinguishes eligible individual cards from sets, lots, kits, decks, boxes, and packs, corroborating the commercial separation of singles from multi-card configurations. (pages.ebay.com)

21. Why Do People Collect Sportscards? Fan Motivations for Collecting Miniature Sports Media

    · Taxonomy evidence: The study's original thematic analysis identifies athlete identification, social connection, entertainment, learning, and escape among sports-card collecting motivations. This establishes non-game collecting purposes without using introductory market-value estimates. (journals.sagepub.com)

    · Taxonomy evidence: Financial investment is separately identified among the observed sports-card collecting motivations; the qualitative findings are not a global allocation.

22. The Demographics and Motivations of Trading Card Game Players

    · Taxonomy evidence: The published study investigates analogue trading-card-game play and identifies competitive, social, escapist, and design-related motivations. These are gameplay-related demand dimensions, not evidence that every game-system card is purchased for play. (dl.digra.org)

    · Taxonomy evidence: Competitiveness is an identified motivation for TCG participation, supporting a competitive-play subcategory without establishing its spending share.

23. From card collecting to box breaks: Understanding the risks and helping youth make informed choices

    · Taxonomy evidence: The nonprofit's August xx.xx 2026 publication distinguishes buying cards for playing, collection-building, experience, and financial gain, while acknowledging overlapping motivations. (ymcagta.org)

    · Taxonomy evidence: The publication recognizes collection expansion as a card-purchase purpose.

    · Taxonomy evidence: Playing the associated game is explicitly distinguished from collection-building and profit-seeking.

    · Taxonomy evidence: Purchasing for expected financial value or resale profit is identified; no returns or profitability are established.

    · Taxonomy evidence: The publication recognizes enjoying the opening or break experience, supporting an experience-oriented category as an analytical inference rather than a measured standalone segment.

    · Taxonomy evidence: The publication describes card collecting among adults as well as younger users, without an exact adult age definition or demographic allocation.

24. Exclusive Fandom Finds Arrive at Target This Black Friday

    · Taxonomy evidence: Target's November xx.xx 2025 announcement presents Topps basketball and Pokémon trading cards among its holiday gifts. This establishes retail gifting positioning, not completed gifting purchases or organizational promotional demand. (corporate.target.com)

25. Pokémon Clubs at Your Library
    - Taxonomy evidence: The association's Pokémon Club program expressly serves casual play and learning rather than competition, establishing a noncompetitive TCG use setting. (ala.org)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The program identifies intended young participants, illustrating why user age must be separated from the coordinating adult or institution.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The stated intended age range includes children below xx.xx.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The stated intended age range also includes ages xx.xx and xx.xx but does not establish demand throughout the report's complete teenage-minor band.
    - Taxonomy evidence: School and public libraries are program operators, but supplied kits are available at no additional cost and therefore do not prove paid institutional card purchases.
26. Graded Trading Cards | Buy or Trade In Graded Cards
    - Taxonomy evidence: GameStop's specific card-buying page offers cash or store credit for eligible graded cards and also offers cards for sale, directly establishing a commercial organization acting as a card purchaser as well as a seller. (gamestop.com)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The documented buy-and-sell activity supplies a commercial resale example; it does not establish a global reseller share or justify counting successive inventory transactions as final demand.
27. Bringing Them In: Developing a Gaming Program for the Library
    - Taxonomy evidence: The librarian's firsthand account reports that Benton Harbor Public Library purchased a Yu Gi Oh deck for patron borrowing. Published in 2013, this establishes a historical paid institutional example, not current demand. (ideals.illinois.edu)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The purchased deck supported patron play in a community-library setting.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The account distinguishes the purchasing library, adult supervision, and younger users, demonstrating that purchaser and user roles are not interchangeable.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The described program separated children aged twelve and younger from older teen participants; this is a historical program-specific distinction, not a global market standard.
28. Complying with COPPA: Frequently Asked Questions
    - Taxonomy evidence: The FTC guidance identifies children under xx.xx as the relevant COPPA age group. This supplies a U.S. online-privacy reference for the analytical cutoff, not a worldwide card-market demographic rule. (ftc.gov)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The under-xx.xx reference supports the stated basis for the report-defined Children band but does not establish participation, sales, or suitability.
29. Convention on the Rights of the Child text
    - Taxonomy evidence: Article xx.xx uses a below-eighteen definition of childhood subject to its stated applicable-law exception. It is a reference for the report's analytical boundary, not a universal trading-card age classification. (unicef.org)
    - Taxonomy evidence: The treaty reference informs the upper boundary of the report-defined teenage-minor band; the complete xx.xx-xx.xx partition is analytical.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Using xx.xx as the report's adult-band threshold is an analytical inference from the reference boundary, not evidence of adult card demand or uniform legal majority.
30. 14.5. Principles of classification and finding the correct class for specific items - IP Australia
    - Taxonomy evidence: The official classification guidance distinguishes virtual goods from physical goods and treats an NFT as a means of certification rather than the underlying good.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Physical goods authenticated by an NFT remain classified according to the physical goods concerned; applying that principle to tangible card entitlements is an analytical adaptation.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Virtual goods consist essentially of digital data and are distinguished from their tangible counterparts; this supports a medium distinction without making blockchain use its own medium.

31. The role of online marketplaces in protecting and empowering consumers: Country and marketplace survey findings
    - Taxonomy evidence: The study defines an online marketplace through facilitation between buyers and third-party sellers, including business-to-consumer and consumer-to-consumer transactions and secondhand consumer goods.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The study distinguishes third-party marketplace activity from direct sales of a platform business's own products, supporting classification by the actual seller/intermediary relationship.
32. ISIC, Rev. 4 - Code 4791: Retail sale via mail order houses or via Internet
    - Taxonomy evidence: The international classification recognizes Internet retail orders whether the purchased product is physically delivered or digitally downloaded.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Internet retail selling is an expressly recognized commercial route, independent of physical product delivery.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Internet retail auctions are expressly included in the classification.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The classification expressly recognizes orders by mail and telephone, supporting their commercial identity without establishing card-specific global prevalence.
33. ISIC, Rev. 4 - Code 4799: Other retail sale not in stores, stalls or markets
    - Taxonomy evidence: The classification expressly recognizes vending-machine retail as a commercial selling method; adapting it to the card market does not establish its worldwide card-sales contribution.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Direct selling, nonstore retail auctions, and nonstore commission-agent retail are recognized commercial activities, supporting separation from permanent store counters and Internet ordering.
34. Quarterly E-Commerce Report - General FAQs
    - Taxonomy evidence: The official explanation distinguishes fixed point-of-sale store retail from nonstore methods including catalogs, portable stalls, and vending.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The U.S. definition includes electronic-mail ordering more broadly than the selected structured-order convention; these boundaries require reconciliation before combining national channel data.
35. Guide to the Ronald S. Korda Collection of Sports and Trading Cards - Smithsonian Institution
    - Taxonomy evidence: The museum's own card holdings span sporting, entertainment, scientific, artistic, and social subjects; they support subject-domain distinctions, not worldwide market shares.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The collection contains separately organized sports-card holdings.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Documented subjects include film, television, music, comics, games, and fine and fantasy art.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The collection description identifies science-and-nature card subjects.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Documented subjects include military topics, biography, law enforcement, and product advertising.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The collector's documented purchasing included card and collectibles shows; this is historical channel evidence.
36. eBay Authenticity Guarantee for Trading Cards
    - Taxonomy evidence: The marketplace distinguishes ungraded and graded physical-card singles and states that its authenticity inspection does not grade or regrade the card.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Eligible ungraded singles can receive independent authenticity inspection without assignment of a condition grade.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Already graded singles can undergo holder and label authentication without regrading, demonstrating that authenticity inspection and an existing condition grade are distinct attributes.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The documented transaction involves a tangible card inspected and shipped between the seller, authentication facility, and buyer.

37. PSA - Grading Standards
    - Taxonomy evidence: The published service standards distinguish ranked card-condition grades from authentic-only and authentic-altered encapsulation without a numerical condition grade.
    - Taxonomy evidence: Authentic-only encapsulation is an expressly documented service outcome distinct from assignment of a numerical card grade.
    - Taxonomy evidence: The service publishes a ranked condition-grading scale, establishing condition grading as a commercial certification attribute rather than a universal card-price tier.

1.4. Years Considered for the Study

The historical year is 2024, the base year is 2025, the estimated year is 2026, and the forecast horizon ends in 2032. These roles distinguish historical context, the base-year reference, estimated activity and forward-looking interpretation.

1.5. Currency Considered for the Study

Monetary reporting uses U.S. dollars (USD), expressed as absolute currency amounts.

1.6. Language Considered for the Study

The study is published in American English.

1.7. Key Stakeholders

- Card publishers and intellectual-property rights holders: decisions about offering scope, licensing territories, commercial permissions and the responsibilities attached to distribution relationships.

- Manufacturing and fulfillment partners: exposure to offering requirements, delivery commitments and the distinction between supplying an upstream input and participating in the card offering itself.
- Distributors, retailers and seller-direct businesses: decisions about supplier qualification, authorized access, assortment, fulfillment obligations and customer relationships.
- Marketplace operators, auction businesses and card-break sellers: decisions about seller eligibility, transaction responsibilities, authenticity representations and the scope of buyer entitlements.
- Household Buyers, collectors, players and gift purchasers: decisions about intended use, compatibility, trust, ownership conditions and suitability for the eventual user.
- Commercial Buyers: decisions about acquisition for resale, promotion or other business purposes, including supplier terms, customer acceptance and transaction exposure.
- Public and Nonprofit Buyers: decisions about purchasing authority, intended users, suitability and the conditions governing institutional acquisition.
- Authentication, grading, appraisal and custody businesses: exposure to the scope of their representations, recognition by transaction counterparties and the distinction between a card offering and an enabling service.
- Digital card publishers and ownership-platform operators: decisions about account access, transfer permissions, platform continuity and the relationship between a ledger record and the rights offered to a buyer.
- Game designers, illustrators, community organizers and specialist media: exposure to creative rights, product positioning, gameplay relevance and the communication of commercial claims to users.
- Regulators and consumer-protection bodies: jurisdiction-specific questions about commercial conduct, buyer protections and the terms under which card offerings reach different purchaser and user groups.

2. Research Methodology

2.1. Introduction

The Trading Card study uses commercial evidence analysis to connect its Global offering boundary with questions about participation, buyer access, ownership and competitive choice. Physical and native-digital cards, first sales and subsequent resales, and the full segmentation hierarchy provide the framing for that analysis.

The approach separates inclusion in the study from proof of a supplier's capability, and separates an observed business fact from its economic interpretation. Qualitative explanations support conditional judgments about market mechanisms; numerical conclusions require evidence appropriate to their own measurement boundaries.

2.2. Research Design

The research design assigns evidence to specific commercial questions about an offering, supplier, buyer relationship or market-access condition. The Trading Card hierarchy defines the categories to investigate; evidence must separately establish which businesses participate, what they offer and under what conditions they can serve a buyer.

Coverage distinguishes an advertised offering from demonstrated availability, a license from unrestricted commercial access, and an ownership record from the rights attached to it. A fact established for one card product, territory, channel or period should not be generalized to another without support. Unsettled conditions remain attached to the affected interpretation rather than being treated as proof of either participation or absence.

2.2.1. Primary Research

The analyst team conducted primary research as a qualitative challenge layer for market definition, segmentation, demand conditions, adoption barriers, and competitive interpretation. This work tested analytical assumptions and sharpened explanations of market mechanisms without serving as standalone support for numerical estimates.

The qualitative challenge layer is evaluated alongside secondary evidence within the accepted market scope. It informs conditional market explanations and hypotheses for subsequent quantitative analysis. Numerical estimates require their own supporting evidence, and a forecast derived from a qualitative assumption does not independently validate that assumption. Final interpretation must reconcile the qualitative findings with the completed quantitative results.

2.2.2. Secondary Research

Official publisher and platform materials can establish advertised card offerings and stated commercial terms. Mandatory filings can establish disclosed entities, ownership relationships and business facts within their reporting boundaries. Licensing records and applicable legal or regulatory materials can delimit rights and jurisdictional access, while public buyer policies, awards and channel terms can establish particular purchasing or participation conditions.

These source roles are not interchangeable. A portfolio does not establish buyer adoption, a rights announcement does not establish every territory or sales channel, and a public purchasing condition does not necessarily apply to other buyers. Evidence assessment therefore considers the underlying authority, effective period, offering identity and geographic scope of each claim, while separating original business records from unsupported third-party interpretation.

2.3. Research Framework

The framework connects each included card offering to its commercial supplier, rights holder where relevant, buyer sector, route to market and transaction stage. These relationships organize competitive comparison: a published offering, a license, a distribution relationship and a marketplace role represent different forms of participation and should not be treated as equivalent capabilities.

Classification informs comparison rather than determining an opportunity conclusion. The measurement boundary must match the commercial question, while entry, partnering and switching assessments must rest on documented access conditions and their implications for buyers. Category membership alone establishes neither product equivalence nor a preferred business route.

2.3.1. Qualitative Analysis

Qualitative analysis focuses on the conditions behind buyer choice and supplier access. Questions include whether particular rights constrain the available offering, whether gameplay compatibility or collection continuity affects switching, whether certification changes buyer acceptance, and whether ownership arrangements limit transfer or continued access.

Interpretation separates a documented commercial condition from its proposed economic effect. Alternatives such as another seller, a different channel or a different purchase purpose must be considered before attributing buyer behavior to a single mechanism. The primary-research challenge layer informs these explanations without independently establishing numerical conclusions.

2.3.2. Quantitative Analysis

The quantitative framework requires alignment between the commercial question and the activity being represented. Offering identity, geography, period, transaction stage and participant role are comparison controls; evidence about a diversified company, an intermediary or a particular card offering cannot be treated as interchangeable.

The segmentation axes are separate views of activity rather than additive markets. Competitive Play and Casual Play sit within Gameplay, while Physical Card Certification describes physical offerings rather than Native-Digital Cards. Buyer Sector and End-User Age Group also require separate interpretation because the purchaser and the user need not be the same person. These relationships constrain valid comparisons without predetermining a measurement or attribution basis.

2.4. Market Size Estimation

Market-size estimation is intended to connect commercial evidence to the defined Trading Card offering boundary. A financial amount associated with a participating business is relevant only when the activity it represents can be related to that boundary.

Primary Sales and Secondary Sales both belong to the study, but they answer different questions about issuer activity and subsequent exchange. Card transactions, intermediary services and enabling infrastructure must remain distinguishable. Including a category in the study does not by itself establish an additive financial perimeter or a particular accounting treatment.

2.4.1. Top-Down Approach

The intended role of a top-down perspective is to test whether a broader company disclosure or official aggregate has a defensible connection to the Global Trading Card boundary. Its usefulness depends on whether relevant card activity can be distinguished from other businesses and whether geographic and transaction-stage coverage are intelligible.

A broader total that includes unrelated games, memorabilia or intermediary services cannot establish a narrower card category merely because the reporting entity participates in cards. Where the boundaries differ, the record provides context rather than a substitute for evidence about the defined activity.

2.4.2. Bottom-Up Approach

The intended role of a bottom-up perspective is to examine identifiable card businesses and commercial records whose boundaries match the question being measured. A record is informative only to the extent that its offering coverage, participant role, geography, period and transaction stage can be distinguished from unrelated activity.

Publisher, distributor, seller and platform records may describe different economic interests in related transactions. Their relationship must be understood before aggregation; repeated recording of an exchange is different from a subsequent resale of the card. Unresolved overlap limits the interpretation of combined evidence rather than justifying automatic addition.

2.5. Data Triangulation

Triangulation has the role of checking whether different evidence types address the same commercial proposition. An official portfolio can identify an advertised card offering; a rights or legal record can delimit permission; and a buyer or channel record can establish a particular access condition. These records reinforce one another only where their identities, territories, periods and commercial relationships align.

Conflicting evidence calls for a narrower conclusion or a clearly conditional interpretation, not artificial agreement between unlike records. Qualitative findings can challenge the explanation of a mechanism, but agreement with that explanation does not independently establish a numerical result.

2.6. Research Outcomes

The study is intended to help publishers, rights holders, distributors, sellers, platforms and buyers distinguish included offerings from demonstrated commercial capabilities. Its decision support concerns buyer qualification, licensing and territorial access, channel responsibilities, ownership and transfer conditions, switching constraints, and the prerequisites for direct entry or commercial partnerships.

Conclusions should identify what the evidence establishes, why the condition matters economically, which actor faces a choice, and what could change that choice. Participation in a category is not itself evidence of an attractive opportunity, unrestricted market access or commercial equivalence.

2.7. Research Assumptions

- Comparisons depend on distinguishing the offering, sales format, medium, certification status and transaction stage. Treating materially different card propositions as equivalents can distort conclusions about substitution and buyer access.

- Segmentation axes describe overlapping attributes of card activity, not independent pools of demand. A purchase may serve more than one purpose, so purpose-based interpretations depend on clear attribution.
- Household Buyers, Commercial Buyers, and Public and Nonprofit Buyers identify purchasing relationships rather than necessarily identifying the final user. End-user age and purchaser authority therefore remain separate considerations.
- Supplier-access interpretations are conditional on the rights and permissions applicable to the particular offering, territory and channel. Corporate affiliation or an announced relationship alone is not assumed to confer unrestricted selling authority.
- Forward-looking interpretations are conditional on continuity in relevant rights, platform operation, distribution access and buyer acceptance. A change in these conditions can invalidate conclusions carried forward from the base-year context.

2.8. Research Limitations

- Company disclosures may combine card activity with other businesses or combine different commercial roles. Applying such evidence to a particular card category requires a defensible connection to that category; corporate participation alone cannot establish offering-level activity.
- Repeated resale of a card, repeated recording of one exchange and the provision of an intermediary service represent different activities. Evidence about one cannot automatically establish the economic activity of another participant.
- Possession-Based Holdings, Centralized Account Ledgers and Blockchain Token Ledgers do not establish equivalent legal rights, redemption arrangements, transferability or continuity of access. Comparisons depend on the terms of the particular offering and jurisdiction.
- A license, offering announcement or channel relationship establishes only the rights, scope and period it actually addresses. Broader geographic access, buyer acceptance or continuing commercial availability requires separate support.
- Authentication-Only Cards and Condition-Graded Cards are distinct commercial categories, but category labels alone do not establish equivalence between providers or acceptance by a particular buyer, platform or auction business.
- The Global boundary includes differing local purchasing and market-access conditions. A condition documented in one jurisdiction or buyer relationship cannot be generalized to all countries, age groups or buyer sectors.

3. Executive Summary

3.1. Introduction

The Global Trading Card market is organized around what the buyer acquires and who controls access, rather than a single interchangeable card proposition. It includes Trading Card Game Cards and Non-Game Trading Cards, Physical Cards and Native-Digital Cards, and Primary Sales and Secondary Sales. Topps' exclusive NFL and NFLPA license illustrates a property-specific publishing barrier, not an individual reseller's accepted supply. Secondary intermediation involves a different relationship, illustrated by Fanatics Collect's delegated selling service.

Buyer purpose also limits substitution. Pokémon's fixed-content decks address immediate play, whereas randomized boosters serve discovery. Replacing a game, theme, or format may redirect spending without satisfying the same need. The principal commercial choices are therefore rights-led publishing, purpose-matched retail, and secondary intermediation, each evaluated against the actual entitlement and a fulfillable customer promise rather than franchise visibility alone.

3.2. CXO Perspective

Publishers and rights owners should separate content permission, supply, and commercialization before allocating capital. Cartamundi's disclosed trading-card-game customer relationships support evaluating contracted supply instead of owning production assets. Bushiroad Inc.'s hololive role demonstrates separately delegated sales and operational support alongside COVER Corporation's retained responsibilities. Neither precedent grants another applicant content rights or reserved delivery. Commitments should follow accepted agreements covering counterparties, territory, approvals, channels, and delivery; delegation exchanges selected owned capabilities for supplier dependence and shared control.

Retail executives face a different commitment sequence. WPN requires an operating store before application and links promotional support to its Magic community. Prospective premises must therefore be viable without assumed admission, while an existing qualifying merchant can evaluate incremental community support. Accepted supply and customer purchasing that sustain premises and staffing remain necessary; participation does not establish either. Ordinary resale is the alternative when event-related obligations cannot be justified.

3.3. New Revenue Opportunities

The assessed routes include immediate-play onboarding for Household Buyers, service-matched secondary selling for existing holders, defined commercialization support for property owners, and destination-qualified ONE PIECE retail in the Middle East. Account-based physical fulfillment is a separate, entitlement-specific route rather than automatic digital resale access. These routes remain conditional on suitable products, accepted access, and the relevant customer promise. Public and Nonprofit Buyers remain a verification-led prospect: library participation establishes an engagement use case, not an approved paid card order. The Opportunity Mapping section details these routes and their distinct capture conditions.

Sources & Evidence

1. Sports & Trading Card Consignment
   · The consignment offering supports a service-specific secondary-selling route rather than an undifferentiated card-supply proposition. (fanaticscollect.com)
2. How do I transfer cards from Upper Deck e-Pack to my COMC account?
   · COMC confirms its e-Pack partnership and limits transfers into COMC accounts to physical cards, corroborating the holding-specific fulfillment and selling route. 6. Graded Trading Cards | Buy or Trade In Graded Cards
   · GameStop documents an outright purchasing route for qualifying PSA holdings at participating stores, supporting a secondary-selling choice distinct from consignment. (gamestop.com)
7. GETTING STARTED – FOR STORES | ONE PIECE CARD GAME - Official Web Site
   · Bandai lists Jazeel and Active Gulf as Middle Eastern ONE PIECE distributors and directs retailers to distributors in their own area. This establishes candidate regional access rather than an accepted individual order. (en.onepiece-cardgame.com)
8. The hololive OFFICIAL CARD GAME's Position in the TCG Market: Report from the 1st hOCG Shop Staff Networking Event
   · The documented hololive support relationship and Japanese store engagement underpin the bounded commercialization-support opportunity for property owners. (coveredge.cover-corp.com)

3.4. Next-Generation Business Models

Secondary-commerce models differ in how much responsibility the holder transfers. Fanatics Collect undertakes listing and sale through consignment, while GameStop Corp.'s U.S. program offers outright purchases of qualifying PSA-graded cards. A holder seeking a dealer settlement faces a different choice from one delegating a sale that has yet to occur. Retaining direct selling preserves control and execution work. These are documented alternatives, not evidence that one route produces a better result.

Digital infrastructure can change handling without changing the underlying card medium. The Upper Deck Company's e-Pack supports shipment and COMC transfer for eligible physical holdings but also contains digital-only items; COMC accepts only physical cards from the service. Panini Bridge permits external transfer for supported digital holdings, with specified platform uses unavailable until return. Businesses should select the documented fulfillment or exchange entitlement rather than assume that an account display establishes physical delivery or unrestricted transfer.

Sources & Evidence

1. Panini NFT FAQs - Blockchain & Marketplace Help
   · Panini Bridge supports external transfer for specified holdings. Ethereum-held cards cannot use specified Panini collecting activities or Panini Marketplace selling until returned, establishing a portability-versus-platform-utility distinction. (nft.paniniamerica.net)
2. Sports & Trading Card Consignment
   · Fanatics Collect describes receiving holdings, managing listing and sale, and paying the seller's account after sale. This supports delegated execution rather than an outright dealer purchase. (fanaticscollect.com)
3. How do I transfer cards from Upper Deck e-Pack to my COMC account?
   · COMC's physical-only transfer rule demonstrates that an e-Pack account display does not give every holding the same receiving-service entitlement. (comc.zendesk.com)

   · GameStop offers cash or store credit for accepted qualifying PSA Lighthouse-label cards and excludes other graders from the stated purchasing program. Card acceptance remains conditional. (gamestop.com)

3.5. Industry Roadmap

For 2026-2027, distinguish new commitments from continuing legacy relationships. Select's October xx.xx 2026 announcement states that its AFL license will end on October xx.xx 2026, while describing continued other-license activity and qualified redemption commitments. Courtyard's April xx.xx 2026 notice pauses new vault submissions but preserves redemption of existing stored cards. Dealers should require accepted release supply or explicit intake acceptance before new promises. Select Australia Pty Ltd remains registered as active, but the branded website agreement names Select Cards Pty Ltd; responsibility for individual supply and redemption obligations remains unresolved.

For 2028-2029, extend a retail model only against renewed title-country supply acceptance and clearly allocated commercial responsibilities. ONE PIECE's area-specific ordering structure does not confer automatic access to another destination. EU-facing expansion also requires allocation of applicable importer, distributor, and fulfillment responsibilities rather than reliance on a common marketplace.

For 2030-2032, EU-facing physical-card agreements should accommodate applicable packaging requirements while preserving accurate sealed-product descriptions. The packaging framework generally began applying on August xx.xx 2026; its 2030 recyclability objective should inform renewals subject to the requirements applicable to each package and commercial role. Digital propositions require continuing transfer and exit permissions because Panini's terms allow eligibility restrictions and reserve underlying content rights. Renewals, destination acceptance, and permission changes are commitment triggers, not predictions of completed adoption.

Sources & Evidence

1. Terms & Conditions
   - Panini's terms permit Non-Mintable classifications even for previously eligible holdings, reserve underlying content rights, and allow restrictions when licenses or underlying rights change. Continuing portability therefore remains permission-dependent. (paniniamerica.net)
2. Packaging
   - The Council identifies August xx.xx 2026 as the packaging rules' general application date, broad packaging coverage, packaging minimization, and an objective of economically viable recyclability by 2030. The card-contract renewal implication is conditional on applicable requirements. (consilium.europa.eu)
3. General product compliance
   - EU guidance distinguishes importer, distributor, warehouse or fulfillment, and intermediary roles. Importers must ensure manufacturers have fulfilled applicable obligations; a common marketplace does not settle those responsibilities. (europa.eu)
4. GETTING STARTED – FOR STORES | ONE PIECE CARD GAME - Official Web Site
   - ONE PIECE ordering guidance is area-specific, requires release-date compliance, and separately describes event applications. Geographic replication therefore requires renewed acceptance rather than assumed transferable access. (en.onepiece-cardgame.com)
5. Current details for ABN 49 003 881 052 | ABN Lookup
   - The Australian Business Register identifies SELECT AUSTRALIA PTY LIMITED as active. Registration establishes that entity's status, not responsibility for every Select-branded obligation. (abr.business.gov.au)
6. User Agreement - Select Cards
   - Select's website agreement identifies Select Cards Pty Ltd as owner and operator. That identity differs from Select Australia Pty Ltd and does not allocate every branded supply or redemption obligation. (selectcards.com)
7. A message from Grant Copley, Founder of Select Cards
   - Select's October xx.xx 2026 announcement states that its AFL license will end October xx.xx 2026, describes continued other-license operations, and qualifies its outstanding-redemption commitment with possible contrary direction. It does not establish completed release or redemption fulfillment. (selectcards.com)
8. Vault Your Cards | Help Center
   - Courtyard's April xx.xx 2026 notice pauses new vault submissions and says incoming shipments will be returned, while separately preserving redemption of cards already stored. The notice does not establish reopening. (help.courtyard.io)

4. Market Overview

4.1. Introduction

[redacted] Its commercial structure combines content rights, publisher-controlled releases, selling channels, and subsequent exchange. Sales formats and ownership infrastructure describe different customer entitlements; they are not automatically equivalent offerings or additive pools of demand.

The market extends beyond sports and competitive play. The National Archives Store's United States and Native Nations Trading Cards illustrate a history and education proposition, while Panini's digital-card infrastructure illustrates blockchain-based collecting with offering-specific transfer conditions.    · Evidence informing the 2027 market-value input; displayed series and growth include calculations: The disclosed release calendar and organized-play footprint support a continuing commercial pipeline; forecast purchasing conversion and retention remain modeled.

4.2. Key Growth Contribution

Recurring Magic play provides an adoption pathway because WPN links promotional support to participating store communities. Serving that need requires a qualifying store, suitable card supply, and staff able to sustain participation. The commercial contribution remains conditional: attendance must become purchasing that supports the service commitment, while program approval does not establish release allocation. Repeat purchasing and accepted replenishment are therefore more useful commitment signals than event activity alone.

4.3. Industry Ecosystem & Value Chain Analysis

[redacted] The commercial bottleneck is permission for the particular property and period, not merely the ability to supply cards. These arrangements should not be backdated or generalized to every theme.

Value can be captured at several relationships after publication. [redacted] Service breadth alone does not establish better seller outcomes.

[redacted] The fulfillment partner therefore matters to the buyer's eventual possession and selling route, while the account display does not make every item a Native-Digital Card or every digital item immediately deliverable. Sellers must describe the actual entitlement before accepting a delivery obligation.

4.4. Market Dynamics

[redacted] WPN community support can encourage retailer participation, while Pokémon's stated replenishment efforts illustrate that customer interest need not translate into immediately fulfillable orders. A retailer's exposure depends on the relationship between customer commitments and confirmed supply, not simply on the visibility of a franchise.

Digital participation and secondary exchange are also separable. Pokémon TCG Live does not permit player-to-player card trading, whereas TCG Pocket permits constrained friend trading. [redacted]

4.4.1. Key Drivers

4.4.1.1. Organized-play support aligns publisher and store incentives

WPN links promotional cards and special-product support to participating stores' Magic communities. This gives retailers a commercial reason to support recurring play rather than compete only on sealed-product availability. ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■

1. WPN Support
   - WPN links promotional cards and special products to participating stores' Magic communities; paid conversion is not established by this support rule. (wpn.wizards.com)

4.4.1.2. Licensed crossovers can connect franchise interest with play

Wizards attributed increased MTG Arena participation to the FINAL FANTASY release. Its broader format eligibility for new Universes Beyond booster sets also provides a route from franchise interest into supported play. ■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■

4.4.1.3. Account-based collecting can reduce transaction friction

4.4.2. Key Restraints

4.4.2.1. Property-specific licenses restrict equivalent publishing access

4.4.2.2. Platform permissions limit digital exchange

Native-Digital Cards do not uniformly support an open exchange relationship. ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ A collecting proposition may remain viable without an accessible cash-resale route.

■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ This supports treating card inventory dependent on continued customer enthusiasm cautiously, rather than assuming recurring commitments from past collector activity. 4.4.3. Key Opportunities

4.4.3.1. Purpose-matched introductory purchases

[redacted]
Pokémon's fixed-content decks provide a concrete basis. Capture requires suitable accepted supply and intended-use matching; the opportunity does not establish retention or make fixed contents preferable for discovery-focused collectors.

4.4.3.2. Secondary sales matched to assurance and delegation needs

4.4.3.3. Commercialization support for property owners

A property owner lacking card-retail reach can evaluate a defined commercialization-support agreement. [redacted] Another agreement requires explicit territory, approvals, and delivery commitments; shared governance is the trade-off against retaining direct execution.

4.4.4. Key Challenges

4.4.4.1. Customer commitments can outrun confirmed replenishment

Pokémon's May 2026 availability update acknowledged purchasing difficulties and described replenishment efforts for affected products. Retailers must reconcile customer commitments with confirmed deliveries. ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■

4.4.4.2. Assurance must match the card and transaction route

eBay's trading-card authentication checks authenticity and listing accuracy but is not condition grading. Eligibility also depends on approved graders and seller and buyer locations, and the inspection does not authenticate an autograph or relic itself. ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■

   · eBay describes inspection for authenticity and listing accuracy and expressly distinguishes the service from grading. (ebay.com)

4.4.4.3. Break sellers must fulfill defined allocations, not just an experience

Whatnot requires disclosed break rules, continuous visibility, card fulfillment for every purchaser, and opening within the same live show; it prohibits off-platform break presales. ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ Card Break Allocations therefore combine entertainment with a defined delivery responsibility, making listing discipline and platform compliance central to execution.

4.5. Porter’s Five Forces Analysis

Supplier leverage is property-specific. Topps' NBA arrangement and Panini's NWSL arrangement demonstrate exclusive access to different licensed properties, not interchangeable inventories or a single market-wide monopoly. ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ Purchasing another format or theme may redirect a budget, but it does not necessarily replace a particular game's usable cards or a collector's chosen subject. Buyer bargaining is therefore strongest where acceptable alternatives are genuinely comparable, rather than merely labeled trading cards.

Rivalry also concerns the transaction relationship. Fanatics Collect combines marketplace, custody, and grading-related services, while eBay provides an alternative exchange route with its own authentication conditions. ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■

4.6. PESTLE Analysis

Trade policy affects physical-card fulfillment through origin, classification, destination, and effective date rather than the seller's address alone. RESEARCH SAMPLE REPORT

[illegible]

Children's participation creates a separate customer-access obligation from an adult's purchase. [illegible] Digital-card operators must align account access, marketing relationships, and parental controls with their actual audience and data practices.

[illegible] The USPTO and Copyright Office's NFT study similarly emphasizes existing intellectual-property enforcement. Commercial exploitation of a card image therefore requires a rights assessment separate from acquiring the token.

Environmental obligations reach packaging as well as the card offering. [illegible] For sealed products and secondary shipments, the commercial tension is protecting condition-sensitive cards while avoiding unnecessary packaging; neither objective should be assumed to override the other.

4.7.1. Near-Term Market Outlook (0-2 Years)

For 2026-2027, the priority is separating commitments that can still be fulfilled from assumptions about continuing issuance or intake. ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ Accepted release supply, confirmed redemption responsibility, and explicit intake acceptance should govern new commitments.

For Select Australia Pty Ltd, contractual attribution remains unresolved: the registered company is active, but the branded website agreement names Select Cards Pty Ltd as operator. The records do not settle which party owes each license, supply, or redemption obligation. ■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■

4.7.2. Medium-Term Market Outlook (3-5 Years)

For 2028-2029, replication of a proven commercial relationship is more defensible than assuming that a regional footprint transfers access. ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ Merchants should compare extending an accepted regional agreement with maintaining separate local accounts; consolidation simplifies coordination but can preserve dependence on a partner that does not cover every destination.

EU-facing expansion also requires explicit allocation of importer, distributor, and fulfillment responsibilities. ■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ Evidence of those relationships would support further commitment; unresolved coverage or responsibility favors retaining the established footprint rather than assuming broader access during this horizon.

4.7.3. Long-Term Market Outlook (5-10 Years)

For 2030-2032, durable physical-card propositions will require commercial agreements that accommodate applicable packaging obligations without obscuring what sealed product the buyer is promised. The EU packaging framework's 2030 recyclability objective is a renewal trigger, not a uniform deadline for every card package. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■

4.8. Go-to-Market Strategy

Retailers should first select the purchaser's required outcome: immediate play, specified collecting contents, or randomized discovery. ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ Promotions should therefore reflect the actual purchasing and service obligations rather than imply that franchise recognition or a certificate guarantees an economic benefit.

An event-led route is appropriate only where the merchant can sustain the qualifying business setting and separately secure supply. WPN applications concern stores already operating, so an entrant should evaluate premises viability without assuming approval, then seek participation once eligible. ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■

5. Market Insights

5.1. Consumer Insights & End-User Perspective

[illegible] Household Buyers seeking a playable starting point therefore face a different choice from completion-focused collectors or gift purchasers. Retailers should explain fixed contents, randomized contents, and guaranteed promotional inclusions separately rather than equate a larger presentation with more selective access.

[illegible] Collecting and Casual Play can preserve a different use proposition when competitive eligibility changes. Consequently, apparently similar cards need not be acceptable substitutes, and a format change should trigger a suitability review rather than an assumption that every buyer will switch.

[illegible] An institution assessing such an offering should identify its approving purchaser, intended activity, and applicable purchasing terms before a supplier treats the use case as a committed order. The retail offering supports a concrete educational application but does not establish a funded institutional procurement program.

2. What types of Trading Card Game products are available?
   · Pokémon distinguishes fixed-content preconstructed decks from randomized booster packs and states that boosters inside its described boxed assortments do not provide a special chance of obtaining particular cards. 5.2. Consumer Experience Benchmarking

Physical-card assurance should be benchmarked by scope rather than by a common certification label. ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ Approved graders, transaction locations, and offering format affect eligibility, so sellers should describe the actual service rather than imply equivalent protection across all Condition-Graded Cards or sales formats.

Account-based experiences should be compared on fulfillment and permitted exchange. Upper Deck e-Pack distinguishes digital-only items from eligible physical counterparts that can be shipped or transferred to COMC. ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪

5.3. Opportunity Mapping

Consignment does not guarantee an immediate sale; an outright dealer purchase relinquishes control of the subsequent resale.

Property owners can evaluate commercialization cooperation where the missing capability is retailer engagement rather than content ownership. Bushiroad's hololive role separates COVER's planning and development from sales and operational support, and COVER documents Japanese authorized-store engagement. ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪

Territorial retail entry should begin with the particular title-country relationship. For ONE PIECE in the Middle East, Bandai lists Jazeel and Active Gulf, while Al Tannan identifies Jazeel General Trading LLC and its distribution, sales, and merchandising functions. ▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪ ▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪▪

5.4. Distribution Channel Analysis

[illegible] A merchant choosing organized-play retail should establish program eligibility and actual order acceptance before making premises or customer commitments. A non-program model avoids those particular program obligations but does not establish access to the same benefits.

Secondary sellers face a service-delegation choice. [illegible] Self-managed selling remains an alternative when the seller can retain the corresponding description, delivery, and customer-service responsibilities.

Card Break Allocations add channel-specific delivery commitments. [illegible]

[illegible] Break sellers must align promotion, transaction capture, and fulfillment with the platform's rules; ordinary identified-card listings avoid these particular break obligations but offer a different experience.

Sources & Evidence

5.5. Pricing Trend Analysis

Publisher reference pricing and retailer transaction pricing are separate commercial decisions. [illegible] A store assessing promotions or bundled offers should distinguish the publisher's suggestion from its actual purchasing and service obligations; the reference point does not settle the economics of stocking a release.

Secondary-sale concessions can depend on the form of proceeds rather than an equivalent reduction in selling costs. Fanatics Collect allows eligible US sellers to elect FanCash instead of cash proceeds in exchange for a marketplace seller-fee waiver, while associated vault fees remain. [illegible]

5.6. Regulatory Compliance & Standards Framework

Digital-card access for children can trigger obligations distinct from purchasing Physical Cards. U.S. [redacted]

EU access for Physical Cards requires applicable product compliance rather than reliance on a grading label. [redacted] Using a marketplace does not itself discharge supplier obligations; product-specific scope and transitional treatment must be assessed rather than assuming identical treatment for every collectible offering.

Commercial rights also remain layered. [redacted]

5.7. ESG & Sustainability Analysis

Packaging sustainability creates a channel and presentation decision rather than a uniform product substitution. [redacted] The trade-off concerns retail visibility and the promised presentation; extending the approach to another release requires confirming its actual packaging and protection obligations.

5.8. Disruption & Risk Scenarios

Publisher-support withdrawal would expose retailers that promise continuing releases or events against an unconfirmed program. [illegible] Merchants should separate residual-card selling from continuing-program promises; changing titles may preserve an assortment but will not necessarily serve the same players.

Platform restrictions can interrupt a commercial route without eliminating the underlying holding. Panini's terms permit transfer eligibility to change, while Courtyard's dated intake pause distinguishes new submissions from existing-card redemption. [illegible]

RESEARCH SAMPLE REPORT

Break-policy failure is an execution scenario rather than a general prediction about livestream commerce. Whatnot's allocation, visibility, same-show opening, delivery, and refund requirements can make an otherwise attractive presentation unsuitable for a seller unable to fulfill them. [redacted]

5.9. Return on Investment & Cost-Benefit Analysis

[redacted] An existing qualifying store can evaluate incremental community support differently from an entrant funding premises primarily to obtain program access. Ordinary resale is the alternative where event support cannot justify the additional obligations; program participation alone is not evidence of commercial success.

For a secondary holder, the relevant benefit may be reduced execution responsibility rather than a better eventual selling result. [redacted] The appropriate route depends on the holder's need for settlement, ability to handle discrepancies, and willingness to surrender execution control, not a presumed universal advantage from intermediation.

For a publisher or property owner, outsourcing supply and delegating commercialization are separate investment decisions. ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ Retaining direct control or deferring the launch is preferable when those agreements cannot support the promised offering.

6. Cumulative Impact of Artificial Intelligence 2026

AI is present in trading-card intermediation, but a deployed interface is not an automatic assurance commitment. 7. Trading Card Market, by Card Function

Trading Card Game Cards introduce compatibility requirements that are separate from subject matter and collecting appeal. ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ A change in permitted sets should trigger a suitability review for that customer, rather than automatic reclassification of every affected card as commercially obsolete.

Ownership Infrastructure determines who must act before a buyer can obtain or transfer a holding. Possession-Based Holdings center access on physical delivery; eBay's documented authentication route ultimately sends the card to the buyer. ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■ ■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■■■■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■ ■■■■ ■■■ ■■■■■■■ ■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■

Blockchain Token Ledgers do not remove contractual control over the offering. Sources & Evidence

1. Panini NFT FAQs - Blockchain & Marketplace Help

   · Panini documents eligible external transfers but excludes Ethereum-held NFTs from specified collection activities and its internal marketplace until returned; restricted NFTs cannot be transferred. (nft.paniniamerica.net)

   · Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The FAQ distinguishes Panini's blockchain from Ethereum, limits external eligibility and explains loss of specified platform utility while holdings are external. These constraints support classification and exclusion of a universal-portability uplift; they do not measure card-sales weights. (nft.paniniamerica.net)

   · Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The documented authentication route physically ships the inspected card to the buyer. This supports the possession-based classification premise at both anchors, not its modeled percentage. (ebay.com)

   · Evidence informing forecast-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The documented authentication route physically ships the inspected card to the buyer. 3. Terms & Conditions

   · Panini reserves individual-NFT transfer restrictions, including licensing-related restrictions, and retains underlying content rights despite token ownership or external-wallet holding. (paniniamerica.net)

4. PSA Vault Terms of Service

   · PSA permits completed consignment sales to be fulfilled by shipment, ownership-record transfer, or both, while physical withdrawal has separate request and service conditions. (psacard.com)

   · Taxonomy evidence: Physical release and record-based transfer are separately described, supporting the conclusion that physical medium does not uniquely determine entitlement infrastructure. (psacard.com)

   · Evidence informing base-year allocation inputs; displayed values and growth are calculated: The inspected terms distinguish withdrawal from fulfillment by ownership-record transfer, shipment or both. They support the centralized physical-card category and continuing model premise, but do not establish the 2025 contractual mix or future uptake. (psacard.com)

5. Steam Subscriber Agreement

   · Taxonomy evidence: The account-transfer and license provisions support distinguishing the infrastructure governing an entitlement from the digital content itself. (store.steampowered.com)

6. NIST IR 8472 - Non-Fungible Token Security, March 2024
   - Taxonomy evidence: NFT technology can represent virtual or physical assets. The report therefore supports separating the entitlement infrastructure from collectible medium, rather than equating blockchain use with native-digital content. (tsapps.nist.gov)
7. WIPO - Examination Guidelines Concerning the Classification of Goods and Services in International Applications under the Madrid System, Fifth Edition, 2026
   - Taxonomy evidence: The guidelines describe NFTs as identifiers requiring specification of the underlying goods or services, rather than a standalone product classification. This supports keeping token technology distinct from the purchased card offering. 17. Trading Card Market, by Buyer Sector

[redacted] For a commercial merchant, purchasing inventory introduces its own acceptance and subsequent-sale obligations. The store in which a transaction occurs does not, by itself, identify the purchaser's sector.

[redacted] A supplier pursuing paid institutional business should identify the authorized purchaser, intended use, and purchasing commitment before treating program participation as demand. Program cooperation can support engagement without reproducing the commercial relationship of a funded card purchase.
